Rescuers Race Floods to Marooned Thousands

RAYVILLE DELUGED BY RIVER WATERS

Relief Train Is Sent; 90,000 Refugees Given Immunization; Heroism Shown.

New Orleans, May 5.—(United News.) The air and across raging streams and newly-made lakes, rescue forces moved swiftly today in a race with flood waters for the safety of many thousands of persons in northeast Louisiana.

Hundreds who had sought safety on the Mississippi river levees near St. Joseph, between Vicksburg and Natchez were moved to refuge camps at those places. National guard of fliers, however, reported after airplane flights along the winding course of the rushing river that between 5,000 and 8,000 were at other points on the protective embankments. Further inland small surf boats launched from rescue craft on the river plowed through flood and backwaters, battling stiff currents at times, seeking out those who had been unable to reach high ground and thus had no more secure a haven than a bobbing roof top or a tree.

Many Refuse to Leave.
At many points where the water has risen to only six or eight feet, the rescuers frequently met with flat

Diva Sues New Yorker In Mystery Petition

MORE THAN MILLION INVOLVED

MME. FRIEDA HEMPEL

New York, May 5.—(United News.) A mysterious contract in which August Hecksher, multi-millionaire New York philanthropist, is alleged to have agreed to give $48,000 a year to Madame Frieda Hempel, grand opera soprano, during the rest of her life, has bobbed up unexpectedly in the New York supreme court.

At 79 years of age Hecksher is one of New York's wealthiest men. His philanthropies have touched nearly every worthy cause in Manhattan, but Madame Hempel's suit is the first indication that his generosity had extended to opera stars. Madame Hempel is 42.

The manner in which the alleged contract came to light leaves much to be desired by the high society in which both principals moved. Discussed in for the first time in open court Thursday, where Madame Hempel is suing Hecksher for breach of contract, attorneys for both sides indicated that it involved more than a million dollars.

For that reason, according to the arguments of the philanthropist's lawyers, the plaintiff should amend her petition so as to show whether the contract was in writing or oral; whether it involves a promise of marriage, and specifically what requirements are made of each party.

Those are exactly the details many other people are eager to know, but Justice Cavegnan, who heard the arguments, said it would take several days to decide whether the diva's petition should be amended.

Hecksher is on the Leviathan en route to Europe and Madame Hempel is being besieged by reporters in her uptown apartment. Until one of them speaks, the contract and the suit to

RUTH'S SLAVE MAN STICKS TO STORY OF MURDER NIGHT

Slayer Is Led Into and Out of Horror Chamber But Always Charming Is There.

BY TOM PETTY

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
New York, May 5.—Ruth Snyder's slave man stuck to his story today. He was led in and out of the Snyder chamber of horrors by two lawyers, but always Judd Gray had the blonde woman with him. At the end of the day he followed her out of the Long Island city courtroom with lagging footsteps, just as he swears he always has followed her.

There is no longer any trace of mystery in the murder of Albert Snyder. The little, corset salesman, nervous at times but never reluctant, has cleared it all up.

He was tangled at times today, but always painfully polite, he tried to find his way out. Several times regarding insurance matters he contradicted his previous testimony, but given the opportunity he seemed eager to stick to the records.

Had No Reason.

"Why did you hit Albert Snyder on the head with this sash-weight?" shouted Dana Wallace, counsel for Mrs. Snyder.

"I had no reason to do it all," he replied quietly.

Then Wallace handed him the murder instrument. Gray took it willingly and handled it familiarly.

"Show us how you hit Albert Snyder before and after he hollered," cried the lawyer.

The slave man stood on the platform in front of his chair. He grasped the weight firmly in both hands. "I took it this way," he said, as though he were explaining a simple stroke. Then he raised the weight slowly over his right shoulder. Wallace urged him to show the blow. Gray brought the weight down. "I know I couldn't have struck very hard," he said. He was very calm—and he didn't break, this little

CUBAN PRESIDENT FETED IN ATLANTA

President Machado Principal Speaker at Banquet of Notables at Biltmore Hotel.

After enjoying a brilliant round of social affairs, which culminated in an elaborate dinner and dance at the Biltmore hotel, President Machado, of Cuba, left Atlanta Thursday night for Jacksonville, Fla., on his return journey from the United States to the Republic of Cuba.

The reception accorded the distinguished Cuban visitor and members of his party began when he arrived Thursday morning from Chicago and continued through the day until he boarded the train Thursday night. Military units of Atlanta, from Fort McPherson, the cadet corps from Georgia Military academy, the Old Guard organization, a detachment of Marine college students and the Georgia Tech R. O. T. C. band formed an escort for the visitor through the principal streets of Atlanta.

Heading the reception committee were Governor Clifford Walker, representing the state of Georgia; Mayor L. N. Ragdale, representing the city of Atlanta; Governor M. B. Wellborn, of the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank; W. M. Camp, head of the Old Guard, who arranged for the visit of the president to Atlanta; Albert Howell, Jr., who presided at the dinner given at the Biltmore hotel, and high military officers.

Through an interpreter, President Machado issued a statement expressing keen gratification at the opportunity of visiting Atlanta and his cordial appreciation of the reception given him here.

Speaking at the banquet at the Biltmore hotel, President Machado summarized his administration policy as "harmony in the political field and close economic relations."

"United in two countries," he said, "on the battlefields of San Juan and Cane, and the fact that your own Spanish-American veterans fought side by side with us for the cause of Cuban freedom is not and never will be forgotten by our people."

"If Cuba, therefore, was not a sin

Letters to Lance Reveal How Underworld Rejoiced At Death of Donaldson

Constitution Secures Trans-Atlantic Correspondence on Murder From Solicitor General.

MESSAGE OF DEATH STYLED 'GOOD NEWS'

Intercepted Letters Throw Bright Light on Reactions of Crookdom To Sleuth's Elimination

BY HERB MCUSKER.

Were Bert Donaldson and Jack Lance buddies?

Lance is on trial for his life in Judge G. H. Howard's superior court, charged with the murder of Donaldson in the Georgian Terrace hotel on July 29, 1926.

But the Lance defense claims that he was friendly with Bert Donaldson—and that as a friend he would have been the last person on earth to have "bumped him off." This claim has been voiced in the courtroom, on the witness stand and in the streets.

But WAS he friendly?

NEWS OF MURDER FLASHED OVERSEAS.

In the next two columns are produced cablegrams and letters exchanged between Jack Lance and Stewart Donnelly, the latter a former member of Lance's crowd—and one of the many men whom Bert Donaldson arrested, prosecuted and convicted of crimes or misdemeanors. These cablegrams and letters were turned over to The Constitution by Solicitor General Boykin Thursday.

In August, 1925—eleven months before Donaldson was murdered—Donaldson arrested Jack Lance, Stewart Donnelly and C. L. McLeod, alias McAdams, on complaint of A. S. Cooper, cotton dealer, and obtained convictions, each resulting in 12 months suspended sentences and fines of $500.

A year later, lacking only a few days, Bert Donaldson was murdered. His body, drilled by bullet from a shotgun, was found on the afternoon of July 30. The following day, Jack Lance thought his erstwhile companion, Stewart Donnelly, then in Ostende, Belgium, but believed by Lance to be through the hall as the fundamentalists wish. The Rev. Gerald B. Winrod, of Wichita, Kan., said.

PLAN NATION-WIDE WAR ON EVOLUTION

Fundamentalists Organize Drive for Anti-Evolution Laws, Seeing Success "Like Prohibition."

Resolutions in support of a nationwide movement for anti-evolution legislation were adopted at the World's Christian Fundamentalists association convention here Thursday.

An organization known as "The Flying Fundamentalists," already existing in Kansas, will be enlarged and commissioned "to mould sentiment against the evolutionary hypothesis, and get voters educated to the place where they will express themselves through the ballot as the fundamentalists wish."

As a preliminary step, the convention approved a plea by which the World's Christian Fundamentalists association would inspect and perfect the wording of all anti-evolution measures before they were introduced. Such a step, it was said, would give the bills a better show for passing when placed before the various state legislatures.

"As With Prohibition,"

Cablegrams, Letters Show Joy at Detective's Murder

Herewith are given, for the first time, cablegrams and letters exchanged following the Bert Donaldson murder between Jack Lance, now on trial for the crime, and Stewart Donnelly, bunco man and enemy of Donaldson. The letters and cablegrams were obtained by The Constitution from Solicitor General Boykin:

CABLEGRAM

Atlanta, Georgia.
July 31, 1926.

To Stewart Donnelly, American Express Company,
Paris, France.

Friend Donaldson mysteriously killed here.

(This cablegram was written in pencil by Jack Lance and signed by him, according to Solicitor General Boykin, who stated Lance admitted sending it.)

(No. 2.)
CABLEGRAM

August 7, 1926.

Ostende, Belgium,
To Jack Lance,
Henry Grady Hotel,
Atlanta, Georgia.

Received your cable good news

STEWART GRACE.

(Donnelly's first name is Stewart. His wife's first name is Grace.)

(First letter received.)

Ostende, Belgium,
August 6, 1926.

Friend Jack:

Received your cable and sent you one in answer immediately. You sure gave the Lamisters (crooks) a treat over here. Charlie McCord is getting drunk as a Lord over it, as Bert (Donaldson) was hot on his trail.

It was just one year ago this time since he gave us the long hard shake, Harry Leonard, Regan and Grace and I are here. We are getting plenty action. One is flying to London today for twenty bushels, hope to finish him up tomorrow.

Write me soon and tell me all the news. I am going to Berlin from here then back to Paris and London, and sail for N. Y. about September first. Will join you if everything is O. K.

Tell Ed Ellis, Maurice Maloney was killed here in an automobile accident blowing an egg off. Claude King was with him but not in the same car. The Duke boys are all doing good around Paris.

Will bring you back here with me in December. Office in Rome and Madrid. Plenty of material. Tell Grace and I send our best regards and think of the old times often. I am little lost here. No eggs to trump, but trumped one good on the Mauritania coming over. Give my regards to McAdams, tell him I go around in 84 and 86 now and will give him plenty action. Remember me to your wife and all our old friends. American Express, Paris, will always get me even if I am in jail in Russia. Regards to Red, the taxi driver, Whitey and all the Mitts and Heavy Guys.

Friend Jack:

I expect to go up to Ireland from here, then will sail for America about September 22. If you can get No. 37 for this fall I will be glad to join you and Mac till first of the year. I am sure we will make good down there as you will have a lugging fool for a partner.

How is ———? Give him my best regards. I guess McAdams (McLeod) is still in Florida. Give him my regards, I will wire you on my arrival in New York. With best regards from Grace and myself,

DEFENSE COUNSEL ANNOUNCES LANCE WILL TAKE STAND

State Tightens Net of Circumstantial Evidence Against Gambler; Rest by State Is Surprise.

LANCE'S CELLMATE IS FINAL WITNESS

Quotes Alleged Conversations With Defendant While Both Were Held in Fulton Tower.

BY HERB MCUSKER.

Jack Lance will take his life in his hands today.

Jack Lance is going to tell his story to the jury.

The debonair, fastidious and dimpled gambler who, for three days, has heard two groups of alert lawyers clash and orate in a court battle for possession of his body—one to place it in an electric chair and the other to release it from behind the bars—will mount the witness stand and tell the jury that he did not murder Bert Donaldson, crime-investigator, who was shot to death in the Georgian Terrace on the night of July 29, 1926.

This was the declaration made late Thursday night by W. Schley Howard, distinguished "jury lawyer" and chief of counsel defending Lance.

State Rests Case.

The state of Georgia, as personified by Solicitor General John A. Boykin, rested its case at 5:48 o'clock Thursday night to the surprise of all save members of its own legal group.

Thursday, the third day of the trial, saw the contesting legal factions clash time and again and saw the state draw tighter the array of evidence which it has attempted to encircle about Jack Lance's defense.

While there was, perhaps, more pertinent testimony given for the state during the day than that offered by Ed Ryan, it was to this individual that the court paid most pronounced attention while he was seated in the witness chair.

In Prison Blue.

Ed Ryan is an inmate of the River camp chaingang, serving a term of from one to five years for car-breaking. Clad in the stigmatized blue denim of the prison, he took the chair and told the court the gist of alleged conversations which he held with Jack Lance while the two were cellmates in Fulton tower a few weeks ago.

According to Ryan, Lance often expressed eagerness for action by the solicitor general's office and was chagrined that he was being held without the formality of an indictment against him.

If Boykin ever indicts me for Donaldson's murder, he'll have to indict

Give Talent for Performance Tonight and Underwrite 50 Tickets for Flood Sufferers.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Theatrical people of Atlanta have combined all resources to provide one of the biggest benefit shows of the year at the Georgia theater tonight and the night in which they have offered not only their services but funds as well, shows that they are putting all their enthusiasm into this show for the relief of flood sufferers. It was disclosed in a letter made public on the eve of the big performance, by Thomas H. James, manager of Loew's Grand theater, one of the managers associated in the show.

In this letter members of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees notified Manager James that they would not only contribute their services free of any charge whatever, but also would underwrite the sale of at least 50 tickets for the big benefit show.

All the theatrical managers of Atlanta, all the artists on the vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand, the artists appearing as special performers at the picture houses and members of the American Federation of Musicians

RUSSEL AND NEELY URGE NEW CHARTER

Councilman Horace Russell, of the ninth ward, and Edgar Neely, principal campaigner favoring the proposed city manager form of government for Atlanta, delivered addresses Thursday night to residents of the Sylvan Hills district in behalf of the new charter.

They denounced a system which they claimed is "inefficient and impracticable," and lauded the proposed city manager system as the "salvation of Atlanta." Assistant City Attorney Courtland S. Winn, who was to have defended the present city government, left the meeting when it was decided that the session would be deferred until next Thursday night, but new charter advocates elected to speak to a small number present.

Alderman Charles M. Ford, of the tenth ward, declared that charter advocates "have insulted the intelligence of every person in the employ of the city and the intelligence of every citizen of Atlanta by the presentation of a biased and incorrect argument in behalf of a preposterous document teeming with lurking dangers to every Atlanta."

Alderman Ford and Everett Milligan, his opponent, spoke in behalf of their candidates. Mr. Ford declared that the principal issue before citizens of Atlanta is "not the election of a few aldermen and councilmen, but the issue is the proposed new charter, which will snuff out every vestige of democracy and set up a government for a few rich individuals to experiment with."

800 Pretty Atlanta Girls Participate in Gala Activities In Inaugurating Annual 'Play Day' Demonstration Program

BY WHITNER CARY.

Whenever 800 Atlanta belles are grouped one expects to find beauty and whenever a physical demonstration is staged one expects to find grace. But it is seldom that these two elements are blended in so happy a fashion as was the case Thursday afternoon when girls of O'Keefe Junior High school gave a "Play Day" demonstration at the school grounds under direction of Miss M. W. Bringham and Miss Helen Kilburn, physical directors, to the tune of accompaniment of the Tech high school band and the edification of a large crowd of spectators.

Marching, drills, dances and games featured a program that found the youthful actors in an affair that brought credit both to their talent and their careful instruction, while beautiful costumes added further touch to make the affair.

The Tech high school band, dressed in white uniforms and with purple sashes creating a riot of color that might even challenge costumes of the feminine contingent, opened the event with a delightful overture.

Girls Well Drilled.

The last strains of music had hardly floated away on May breezes when the playground school to the tramping feet of 350 youthful feminine marchers. They went through the intricacies of various quarter wheels and counter marchings with such ease and grace that had their dresses been cadet gray uniform one might easily have thought he was on the drill field of West Point, watching future war leaders instead of gazing at girls still in their teens.

As the last girl left the field history was turned back a few centuries as 120 girls dressed in English colonial garb gave a beautiful interpretation of folk dances of that time.

From that age spectators were scattered back to the era of feminine athletic prowess by witnessing the various strenuous games that now form a part of the physical education of junior high girls.

Another modern touch followed when about 70 ninth-grade girls gave a demonstration of a modern clog dance that lacked nothing in technique and grace. Overalls formed the costume for these 70 portrayals of the glorified jig and it might be mentioned in passing that this raiment did not detract from the charms of feminine dancers.

Band In Serenade.

After being broken with a message from the Tech high school band in the form of a serenade, the program continued with a balloon dance as the next event.

With the last ascension of 60 tiny balloons the red plain of the athletic field seemed changed into a stretch along the far off Zuyder Zee in Holland as 90 girls, dressed in quaint costumes, gave a picturesque portrayal of a Dutch dance.

The ancient may pole dance, in which human circles formed around five poles, brought the affair to an end.

HOOSIERS LAUNCH WOOLLEN BOOM, TAGGART'S MAN

Indianapolis, May 5.—(United News.)—The Indiana democratic state central committee has formally launched a boom for Evans Woollen, Indianapolis banker, for the 1928 democratic presidential nomination.

Tom Taggart, veteran Hoosier democratic leader and former United States

Anti-City Manager Forces Defend City's Government

Charging that the proposed new governmental scheme sets up a 15-man "comitee" that would be under control of an eight-man clique and a "czarlike" city manager, Judge Ernest C. Kuntz, speaking Thursday night at the initial campaign rally of the citizens' committee for the present charter, attacked the proposed city manager charter as "a piece of legislation that would prove disastrous to our city."

At the meeting, which was held in the Piedmont hotel headquarters, and largely attended by representative citizens from every walk of life, Judge Kuntz was unanimously chosen permanent chairman of the citizens' organization, which plans a vigorous city-wide campaign before May 25 in which the proposed new charter will be voted "as the one best argument against itself," he said.

"I am sending copies of this charter to thinking men," said Judge Kuntz, "because it is the one best answer to itself and denounces itself more completely than anything we might say."

"Citizens" Are Cited.
Judge Kuntz then discussed the new charter in detail, declaring that while it provides for permanent education, finance and law departments, it leaves the way open for the "vicious abolition of the police, fire, sanitary and health departments at the will of the council."

Judge Kuntz, who was the author of the "impeachment" clause in the present charter, which forever protects the city waterworks from sale or other disposition by providing that any city official who attempts such disposition shall be automatically impeached, also vigorously attacked that section of the new charter which provides, he charged, for the "mortgaging" of the waterworks property.

Among representative citizens who also spoke in defense of the present form of government as opposed to the city manager proposal were W. A. Vermyer, of the bond commission; E. W. Gunn, and others.

Sunday Is 'Mother's Day,' Remember Her This Way

Sunday is "Mother's day." If your mother is dependent on you in her old age here's an excellent tip on a thoughtful service that might mean a very great deal to her later.

Make her future comfort secure in event you should become the victim of an accident with the famous $7,000 travel accident policy of the North American Accident Insurance company.

The policy, and the naming of your mother as beneficiary, involves the expenditure of only $1.25 per year. For this insignificant sum, The Constitution offers you the great protective policy issued by the North American company, an old and reliable Chicago concern which already has paid more than $50,000 in claims of Constitution policyholders.

While the cost of the policy is negligible, its protection is sweeping. It provides for payments ranging downward from $7,000 in case of death resulting from certain specified accidents; heavy cash sums for permanent injuries; and $10 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from the accidents set for it.

A wreck of trains; a crash of automobiles; the onrushing wheels of a speeding car; a burning building may have a victim of the accident wave today.

Watch for advertisements appearing regularly in this paper which set forth the insurance offer in detail.

This $7,000 travel, $2,000 auto and $1,000 disability accident policy is issued only to subscribers. The Daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 70 at $1.25 per policy per year.

One who is now taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution will save by sending for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier, or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Those taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a post office or rural route delivery, for one year are eligible by paying $1.25 per year per policy above the subscription price.

In sending application for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, full Christian name must be given and the relation of the same to the insured.

PLAY AT COMMERCIAL
TO AID FLOOD FUND

Using funds raised to aid in the Mississippi flood relief, and to aid in the completion of high school education of worthy students, the Commercial High Alumni association will present Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Commercial high school auditorium its play, "The Varieties of 1927."

Featuring the program will be a Spanish dance by Janet Kelly and Hazel Jones, and especially dances by Little Tootsie Dunbar, local entertainer. Among other features will be a two-act comedy, several musical numbers by the Commercial High orchestra, under direction of Professor Phillips, and several comedy skits. A one-act play, "Two Dollars, Please," directed by Miss Meta Barker, with Edwin Horne, Miss Isabel, John Alcorn, Miss Dorothy Spier, Miss Florence Bodine and Robert Smith, as the characters, is also on the program.

Sixteen students have been enabled during the past four years to complete their high school education through the medium of assistance of the scholarship fund of the Alumni association. There are also several others being aided during the present term. With the proceeds of the play, the policy of assisting worthy students, the play was planned, and it was decided at a meeting of the officials of the association that a part of the funds raised should be devoted to the Mississippi relief work.

FULTON SCHOOL BANQUET SLATED FOR THURSDAY

Annual banquet of the Fulton High School Alumni association will be held Thursday evening, May 12, at 6:30 o'clock, at the Henry Grady hotel. It was announced Thursday by Mrs. Thomas Jones, chairman of the social committee.

Guy A. Moore, a former principal of the school, will act as toastmaster, and speeches and music will feature the evening's entertainment.

All graduates and former students of the institution are urged to attend as the election of officers for the 1927-28 term will be held and as matters of importance will be discussed. Tickets may be obtained from class representatives or at the school. They must be secured before Wednesday, May 11. For further information, call Main 1544.

NEGRO CHURCHES PLAN
MUSICAL FOR JUNE 16

Plans were completed Thursday at a meeting of the leading colored ministers of the city to present a musical program in the city auditorium Thursday evening, June 16. The program will be featured by a chorus of 200 voices selected from the choirs of the city. The program will consist of plantation melodies and negro spirituals.

The following officers were elected: Rev. J. L. Butler, pastor of Big Bethel A. M. E. church, was elected president; W. B. L. Clark, pastor of Allen temple, secretary; W. B. Lawrence, treasurer; and Rev. B. R. Holmes, president of the Holmes Institute, general manager.

ATLANTA NAMED FOR BIBLE MEET

Atlanta has been selected as the most logical city for the first all-south convention of the world-wide loyal movement, because of the large number of organized Bible classes in the surrounding states. The convention, which will be held May 26-28, will be in the Capital View Christian church. It is the first of a series of conventions to be sponsored by the loyal movement, which comprises 19,000 organized Bible classes of practically every Protestant denomination in all parts of the world.

W. P. Blackwell, Knoxville, Tenn.; Judge T. O. Hathcock, Atlanta, Ga.; Rufus A. Russell, Jacksonville, Fla.; J. H. O. Smith, Okmulgee, Okla.; J. E. Spiegel, Birmingham, Ala.; and Miss Dorothy Cook, Atlanta, Ga., are among the prominent men and women on the program. Discussions will be led by Traverce Harrison, who is superintendent of the loyal movement. Roy L. Porter, in charge of the loyal volunteer work of the movement; Edwin R. Everett, nationally-known writer and Bible school editor, and Miss Henrietta Heron, editor of "Girlhood Days." Music will be under the direction of LeRoy St. John, of Columbus, Miss.

The sessions will include discussion periods, inspirational and educational addresses and social times. Moving pictures will illustrate the theme of several sessions. Preparation is being made to erect a huge tent in the churchyard, since the crowd promises to overflow the church auditorium. Approximately 1,500 delegates are expected. Judge T. O. Hathcock, 701 Court House, Atlanta, Ga., is registrar. Loyal movement headquarters, 555 Station N., Cincinnati, Ohio, will send a free copy of the convention program upon request.

EAST POINT HIGH
OPERETTA DEFERRED

An operetta, "All About For Sleepy Land," scheduled to be presented Saturday night at Russell High school auditorium in East Point, has been indefinitely postponed. It was announced Thursday by Mrs. R. T. Adair, principal of the school.

The postponement of the play was necessary because the auditorium is being used for the other purposes. It was presented last Friday night at the Harris school in East Point.

KELVINATOR HEADS
IN ATLANTA TODAY

Executives of the Electric Refrigeration corporation, one of the greatest independent industries of its kind in the nation and makers of the well-known Kelvinator, Nizer and Leonard refrigeration products, will be visitors in Atlanta today on a nationwide inspection of business conditions.

They are A. H. Goss, president of the Electric Refrigeration corporation, and C. W. Matheson, vice president of the Kelvinator division. H. W. Burritt, vice president of the corporation, was in Atlanta Wednesday, but was unable to stay over for today's discussion of conditions affecting the electric refrigeration industry in Atlanta and the southeast.

Tonight Mr. Goss and Mr. Matheson will be guests of Samuel C. Dolbe, Atlanta capitalist, who is a prominent stockholder and a director in the Electric Refrigeration corporation, at a dinner at the Capital City club, to which Mr. Dolbe has invited a gathering of leading business men and bankers of the city as guests to meet the distinguished visitors.

During today Mr. Goss and Mr. Matheson will confer with L. S. Bullis, Atlanta district manager of the Kelvinator company, and other sales executives of this territory on topics of interest to Kelvinator officials.

Local headquarters of the Kelvinator company, under direction of Mr. Bullis as division manager, reports a phenomenal increase in business during the recent past. During the month of April last, Mr. Bullis states that more Kelvinators had been sold than in any combined four months in the history of the local branch, and that business so far this year has shown an increase of several hundred percent over business for the corresponding period in 1926.

SUPREME KINGDOM TO HOLD DINNER

A second charter membership dinner of the Supreme Kingdom in honor of Edward Young Clarke, sovereign, will be held at the Henry Grady hotel Monday night, May 9 at 7 o'clock. It was announced Thursday by R. P. Love, assistant national secretary of the organization.

An elaborate program has been arranged for the occasion under the direction of A. G. Pratt, chairman of the committee.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED FOR HOSPITAL DAY

National hospital day will be observed at the United States Veterans' hospital on Peachtree road May 12 in commemoration of the birth of Florence Nightingale, pioneer in nursing. Officials of the hospital have planned an elaborate program for the occasion and "open house" will be observed during the afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Among the entertaining features will be vocal solos by Mrs. J. A. Jordan, accompanied by Mrs. John C. Turner and music furnished by the Salvation Army band.

Leslie J. Steele, U. S. congressman from the fifth district of Georgia will be principal speaker on the afternoon program.

The public, especially the members of ex-service organizations are cordially invited to visit the hospital on national hospital day.

LAST OF PRESBYTERIAN
BAND SERIES TONIGHT

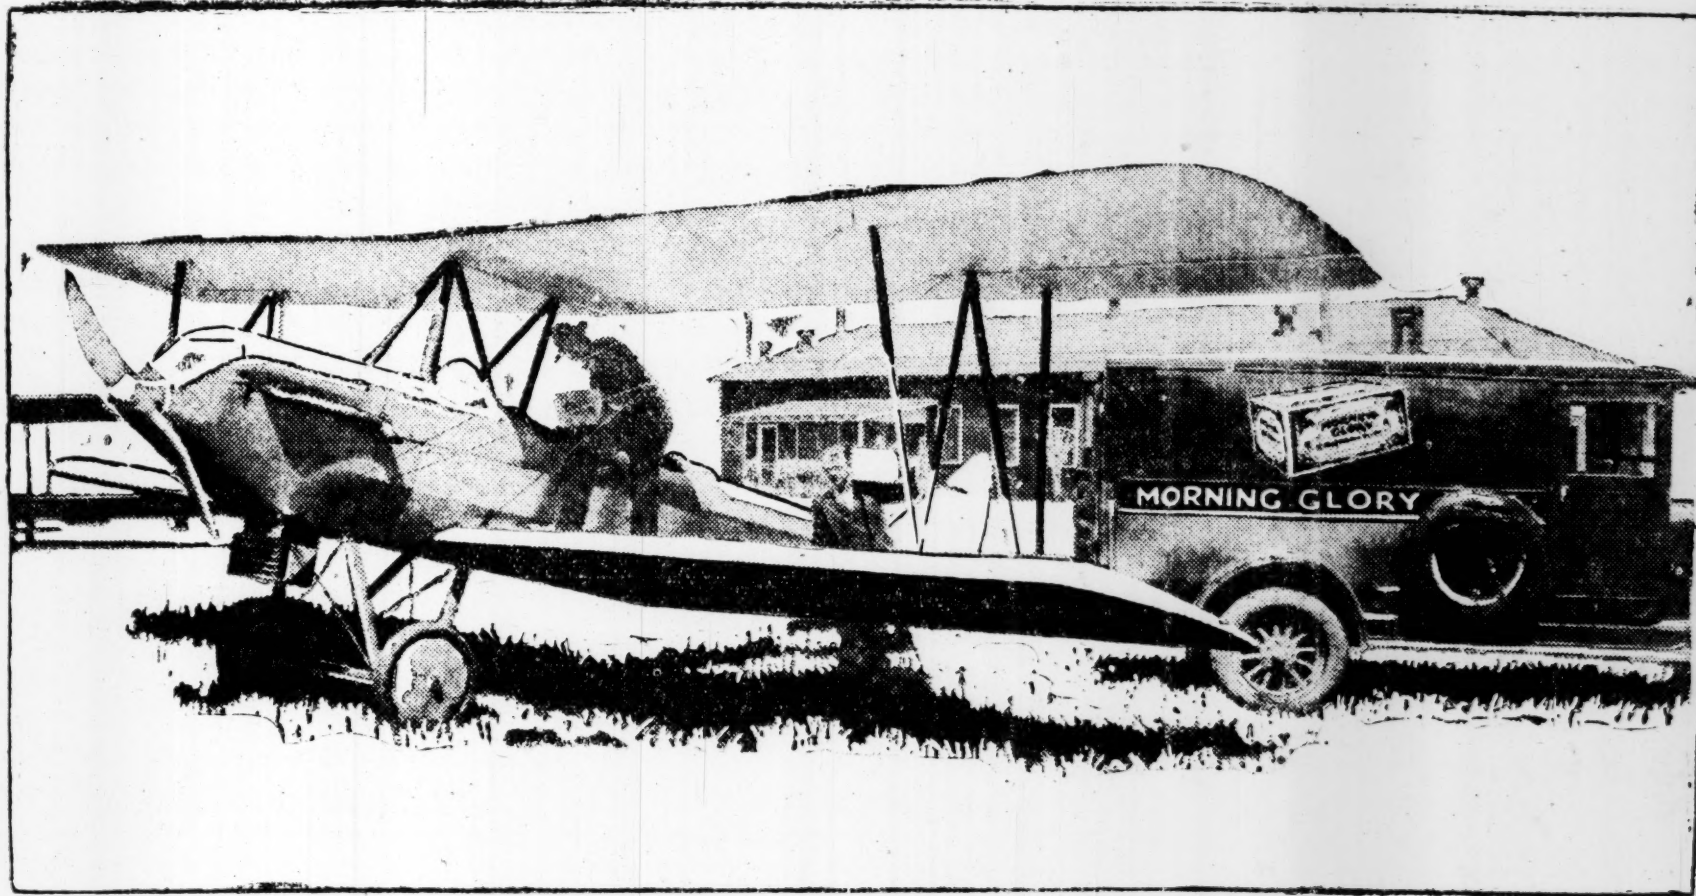

The last of a series of orchestra concerts will be given at the auditorium of the North Avenue Presbyterian church tonight at 8 o'clock, when the "Clan-Naps" orchestra of that school makes its farewell appearance for the school year, under the direction of Miss Spencer McGaughey.

The "Naps" orchestra is composed entirely of undergraduate students, two of whom will be lost to the school and orchestra through graduation this June. A few weeks ago its music was broadcasted over WSB.

WREN'S NEST REPAIRS ARE CONTEMPLATED

Extensive repairs on Wren's Nest, the home of Joel Chandler Harris, are being planned by the Uncle Remus Memorial association, which recently renovated the interior and will paint the residence and add a new roof in the near future.

J. Hampton Rich, managing director of the Boone Highway Trail association, was principal speaker at a recent meeting of the Uncle Remus association, promising members that bronze highway markers will be set up on the lawn soon at Wren's Nest.

"Stowed within the Sturdy Plane's inards is her precious cargo of Butter sent by Morning Glory Creameries to a city where food supply is rapidly vanishing"

[Albert W. Briggs writing to the Memphis Commercial Appeal after flying from Memphis to Little Rock

THE quotation above is from a most interesting article appearing in the Memphis Commercial-Appeal written by their correspondent who traveled from Memphis to Little Rock in a fast plane loaded with Morning Glory Butter.

The raging torrent of the swollen Mississippi surged between Little Rock and the Morning Glory Creameries at Memphis.

Rail connections gone, service to Morning Glory customers was maintained by airplane delivery.

Only in such dire emergencies can we adequately prove our deep sense of obligation and appreciation to the hundreds of thousands of Southern families who have chosen Morning Glory Butter as the spread for their daily bread.

CANNED PINK SALMON to Prevent Goiter!

The following excerpt (Economic Circular No. 48, U. S. Dept. of Commerce) shows the value of Canned Pink SALMON as a preventive of goiter:

Goiter is very common in many parts of the United States, affecting, in some instances, over 50 per cent of the population. Iodine or foods rich in iodine have been found to be very efficient in the prevention and treatment of this disease. In fact, goiter seldom occurs in those sections in which the food and water contain relatively large amounts of iodine. Sea foods are rich in this essential element, as might be expected when one considers that soluble iodine salts washed from the land have been accumulating for millions of years in the ocean. . . . PINK SALMON contains more than ten times as much iodine as meat, milk, eggs, cheese, fresh-water fish, or most of the fruits and vegetables.

RAIL CHIEF SEES END OF 'ONE CROP'

Dangers of the all-cotton, or of the one-crop, system of farming has at last become sufficiently apparent to the farmers of Dixie to cause some material growth in diversified farming and other activities, according to Colonel B. L. Buzz, president of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Coast railroad, in a statement made Thursday.

Colonel Buzz pointed out that diversified farming now claims the attention of the farmers, and that they are beginning to look for a decision which has brought increase in yield heretofore unknown, and a prosperity of a permanent kind.

"Diversification of crops unquestionably is an accomplished fact in the territory served by the A. B. & C. railroad in Georgia and Alabama, insomuch as the farmers are beginning to grow a variety of crops, not only cotton, but also corn, soybeans, etc., and in total production practically of all crops.

About three-fourths of the mileage of the railroad lies in the cotton belt, the total value of the 1926 cotton crop, both lint and seed, compared with 1925 showed considerable loss, but on the other hand large gains were made in each of a half dozen other crops.

"According to Colonel Buzz, the farmer has learned that it pays to have something to market at all times during the year, instead of waiting, as he once did, to sell his cotton in the fall. In dairying, poultry raising, hog raising, truck farming and tobacco growing, Georgia farmers have made rapid strides," Colonel Buzz stated.

"Cotton isn't all the south has to make it rich or poor, nor has the southern farmer been reduced to penury and want over the low price of the staple which outsiders, enemies of the crop, measure the size and contents of his pocketbook," declared Colonel Buzz.

Katherine Spitz is expected to star in the role of Juliet, the light-hearted and clever, who wagers to Prunella's garden, charms her, and falls in love with her.

Both comedy and tragedy are mingled in the presentation of the lovers' many problems. Members of the cast other than the leading characters are Evelyn Bohler, Katherine Goodwin, Ruth Peck, Miriam Thompson, Mildred Skelton, Grace Morris, Louise Blackwelder, Frances Mobley, M. Fred Hirsch, Eloy Edwards, etc. The production will be presented Saturday afternoon at 2:30 and evening performance at 8:30 o'clock. The cast will include some of the most popular and talented members of the local theatre.

55th Anniversary Sale of Regenstein's Will Begin Today

Culminating a half century and five additional years of service in the retail mercantile business of Atlanta, Regenstein's, widely-known millinery house, today will inaugurate its 55th anniversary sale, which will continue for a week. Offerings of magnificent millinery and other fine apparel and accessories will be made to the public at remarkably low prices, according to Joseph Regenstein.

With his brothers, all sons of the late founder of the house of Regenstein, Mr. Regenstein has been associated with direction of the store for approximately a quarter of a century, during which period it has witnessed the greatest progress of its long and honorable history.

"For half a century my own recollection in the early seventies, when the veterans of the War Between the States were still young men and active men, young misses were brought to Regenstein's for their school outfits, their party dresses," Mr. Regenstein said Thursday. "The same old original patronage still is represented on our books by its third and fourth generations. We are delighted to honor it while we honor ourselves with this anniversary celebration."

Mr. Regenstein invites new customers and old friends of the firm alike to call at the store and share in this big selling event.

Five Miles of Doughnuts Camp Fire Goal for Today

Five miles of doughnuts is the goal of the Camp Fire girls of Atlanta in an annual "doughnut drive" which opens today and closes next Friday night in which all of the proceeds from the sale of the "singers" will go to a worthy cause.

The drive will be under the direction of Miss Louise Hollands, executive secretary, and the 34 combined groups of Atlanta Camp Fire girls will take orders all week for doughnuts to be delivered Saturday, May 14. Attractive prizes have been offered to girls who make the largest number of sales. Every girl who sells a certain number of doughnuts will be given a prize of some kind, it was announced. Every home in the city

MANY INDORSE DRIVE TO BOOST MILK USE

Hearty indorsements and offers of aid in the "Milk for Health" campaign is being staged in Fulton, DeKalb and Cobb counties and their principal cities confine to four in all headquarters of the drive. Among these are: Atlanta, Marietta, Roswell, Dunwoody, and Roswell.

Extensive statements were released by publication Thursday are Governor Clifford Walker, Miss Lillian Alexander, superintendent of nurses, Atlanta city schools, and the Reverend Charles P. MacLaughlin, chairman of the Atlanta Ministerial association.

Realizing the nutritive value of milk in milk drinking is no new thing in Atlanta schools, and the general public is being urged to increase the consumption of milk to the point of a necessity.

Monday morning the senior class will set out a number of trees on the campus and dedicate them to the college, while informal class day exercises are scheduled for the afternoon, including general chorus singing and reminiscences about an open campus.

Tuesday is to be devoted to athletics and the annual banquet at night, while final commencement exercises are set for Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the chapel at the school.

J. H. O. Smith, nationally-known evangelist, of Kansas City, Mo., who is holding a series of evangelistic meetings at the Capitol View Christian church, was greeted Wednesday night by one of the largest crowds ever assembled at that church.

Mr. Smith will speak every night at 7:45 o'clock except Monday night and the public is cordially invited.

Governor Walker spoke of the purpose of the drive, in the interest of both the consumer and the producer and added: "I earnestly hope that the influence of this campaign will carry over the entire state and will result in marked improvement in the nutrition and health of our great commonwealth."

'DEATH FARM' HEAD M'RAE UTILITIES PLEA CONSIDERED

Following an all-day hearing, the Georgia prison commission late Thursday, took under advisement the petition for pardon or parole of John S. Williams, of Jasper county, who was sentenced to life imprisonment upon his conviction in the "murder farm" case in 1921. The petition will be acted upon within the next week the commissioners said.

The hearing was attended by Mrs. Williams, wife of the petitioner; Dr. Williams, of Macon, a son and a number of friends and former neighbors. Counsel representing Williams before the commission were State Senator W. H. Key, of Milledgeville; C. L. Reiman, of Redwood, Atlanta, and W. E. Watkins, of Jackson.

In their plea, Williams' counsel stressed the exemplary conduct of the petitioner since his incarceration six years ago, his standing in the community prior to that time, and his present age and infirmities. Williams, who is now past 60 years of age, was convicted of the murder of Lindsey Peterson following the finding of the bodies of a number of other negro employees on or near his Jasper county plantation.

More than two score statements by citizens in a dozen or more different counties, recommending the petition be granted, were filed with the commission Thursday, including one signed by the jurors that convicted Williams.

Protest against taking any action in the case was voiced by Dr. J. W. Hammett and Dr. Wylie Pierce, presiding elders of the North and South Atlantic districts of the Methodist church, and by John Mangor, of the Christian Council of Atlanta.

With further murder indictments and federal postage charges hanging over the petitioner, the state prison commission said these would have to be considered in acting on the petition. Williams' sentence might be commuted to present service, it was said, but he could not be paroled without the other indictments first being quashed.

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

(Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for replies.)

The pointer for today is:

IT TAKES KEEN DIS-CERNMENT TO RECOGN-IZE THE VARIOUS
"DUCK" SITUATIONS AT THE BRIDGE TABLE.

Yesterday I gave the cards of Dummy and Dealer, winning the No. 1 Trump hand, explained the way in which the first trick should be played;
and I asked my readers to try to work out how the hand should be developed.
I now give the entire hand:

♠ J-4-2
♥ K-8-6-4
♦ 9-5-3
♣ 10-2

♠ K-8-3
♥ J-2-3
♦ K-4-2
♣ 9-3-4

♠ A-10
♥ 10-7-4
♦ A-3-8-6-4
♣ A-2-3-4-5

♠ 8-7-6
♥ A-7-5
♦ A-Q-J-5
♣ K-Q-7

The answer to yesterday's question is that Dealer, winning the No. 1 trick with the Ten of Clubs, can see that, in addition to the two Club tricks now assured, he must make seven additional tricks without losing more than one trick to the adversary—if he is to make game. It might be possible to establish one or more Spade tricks, but not without losing two Spades; therefore the Spades must be eliminated from consideration and without them the only hope is to make four Diamonds and three Hearts. The odds are against having these suits break perfectly, but they may; therefore the possibility that they will should not be neglected.

Yesterday's answer slip should read:

On trick 2 North should lead the Three of Diamonds and South should play the Queen of Diamonds. On trick 3, South should lead the Two of Hearts and North should play the Four of Hearts.

The other possible play would be to lead the Ace of Hearts from Closer Hand to trick 3, and duck on trick 4, but the duck on trick 3 is probably more deceptive. By the aid of this duck and the fortunate position of the adverse Hearts and Diamonds, game can be made.

One more "duck hunt":

Dummy—

'BETTER HOMES' HEADS TO BE SUPPER GUESTS

Merchants who furnished the model home No. 1 of the local celebration of "Better Homes" week, will be guests at that place at 10 o'clock tonight at a supper in their honor by teachers and pupils in the home economics departments of the Atlanta city schools.

The two model homes which have been erected to show Atlantans what can be done in building and furnishing ideal homes at moderate cost, as the features of the local celebration of the week will open this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. At home No. 1, 801
Vedado way, Mrs. Arthur Hazen will act as hostess for the day, while Mrs. H. A. Allen will represent the Atlanta Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. J. J. MacAlister will represent the Hoosier Women's club on the business committee for the day. Music will be furnished by O'Keefe Junior High school orchestra, while students of the same school will stage a home economics demonstration. Miss Jean Paxton will speak on "The W. W. C. A. and Better Homes."

At home No. 2, 57 Howard street, Rickwood, Mrs. Raymond O'Kelley of the West End Civic club, and Mrs.
J. A. Watson, of the Atlanta Writers' club, will be hostesses of the day. The Misses Louise Wilson and Dorothy McMahon will provide the musical program, with Mrs. F. T.
Bridges as the sponsor. The Fifth High school girls will give the home economics demonstration.

At noon today a special better homes radio program will be broadcast by Sears, Roebuck and company, featured by a talk by Mrs. Alonzo Richardson on "Clubwomen and Better Homes."

UNITED WOMEN'S CLUB WILL BE HELD SUNDAY

The better homes exposition of the Atlanta Women's club drew hundreds of visitors on Thursday night, prior to its close at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Smith was stricken with apoplexy as he stepped from the street car at the time examined his body and stated that he had a wound on the head, but that it was not sufficient to cause death.

He had worked for the Atlanta Casket company for more than 40 years and was returning home Thursday morning.

BOY COMMISSIONERS RULE ROME FOR HOUR

Rome, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—
This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the boy commissioners took over the affairs of the city and public school systems for one hour and were in absolute charge of their activities.

The boys' election was conducted by the boys' work committee of the Rome Rotary club and proved a spirited affair.

Prior to taking over the affairs of the city and schools the boys were guests of Rome Rotary club at lunch.

Mothers of Atlanta Happy As Day for Big Party Nears

BY BEN COOPER.

Mothers over 40 years of age began laying plans Thursday for getting away from the family circle Monday morning to attend The Constitution's Mother's day party at the Howard theater.

Atlanta mothers will be the first to see Wheeler Wadsworth and his "New Idea" orchestra at the Howard, which adds keenly to anticipation of the occasion, for "Waddy" and his gang will start the engagement at the Howard Monday morning.

Wadsworth and his orchestra will arrive in Atlanta at 4 o'clock this afternoon for a permanent engagement at the Howard, and a big reception has been planned. Governor Walker, Mayor Ragsdale and other prominent Atlantans, including Ernest Morrison, manager of the Howard, M. S. Hill, district manager of Public theaters, civic club representatives and business men will be at the Terminal station to welcome "Waddy" and accompany him to the Howard, where he will be presented with the "musical key to the city" by Mayor Ragsdale.

The parade from the Terminal station to the Howard will leave the station after motion pictures are made of the reception, and will move into Mirehail street, and to the Howard theater, where it will be the Howard Wadsworth and his orchestra will be presented each week at the Howard, introducing a brand-new idea in orchestral stage entertainment, augmented by the finest available soloists and stage entertainers who are touring the Public theaters, it is said.

Wadsworth is a nationally-known radio star entertainer, saxophonist, phonograph record artist and composer of many popular songs, and will bring to the Howard a wealth of experience as a conductor.

Mothers of Atlanta over 40 years of age will be The Constitution's guests at the Howard in the annual Mother's day entertainment sponsored by this paper. There will be Bobe Daniels in his newest picture, "Senorita," and a magnificent Public stage presentation, "Pompador's Fan," together with organ music and other fine entertainment.

Mothers who have automobiles are invited to park them free of charge in the Condit garage, at Houston and Pry streets, during the performance.
Monday morning, through arrangements made Thursday by The Constitution and the Howard, inmates of the Old Woman's home in West End will be brought to the theater and returned home after the show in special ambulances.

Another coupon ticket for mothers over 40 years of age will be printed in Monday morning's Constitution. Mothers are urged to clip this coupon, slip away from the family for a couple of hours, and present it at the Howard at 11 o'clock Monday morning for a real, genuine treat.

DRY DEMOCRATIC WOMEN TO UNITE

BY MARTHA STRAYER.

Washington, May 5.—(United News.)—Democratic women "dry" never heard of outside their home states, are about to make the welkin ring on the prohibition question and the 1928 presidential nomination.

The National Women's Democratic Law Enforcement league will hold a formal organization meeting here tomorrow and Sunday, May 6 and 7.
Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, leader of the democratic women dries in Maryland, will preside.

The climax will come at a dinner
Saturday night, when four speakers will talk on: "What type of candidate for the presidency will democrats support in 1928?" The object of the league, as stated by Mrs. Nicholson, is to fight any candidate who is not dry.

Huston Thompson, of Colorado, former federal trade commissioner, State Senator Belle Kearney, of Mississippi; Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Edward Thurman Smith, of St. Louis, will talk on the 1928 candidacy.

At the opening session four women, all from the south, will talk on the "significance of the National Women's Democratic Law Enforcement league." They are Mrs. J. L. Yan-cey, of Alabama; Mrs. D. McNeill Turner, of Texas; Mrs. Frank L.
Ball, of Virginia, and Mrs. Horace VanDeventer, of Tennessee.

At the same session there will be a discussion of "the democratic party and law enforcement," by four other democratic women, Mrs. J. E. Andrews, of Georgia; Dr. Jessie Giffis, of Nebraska; Mrs. Mary T. Hays, of Tennessee, and Senator Belle Kearney, of Mississippi.

After the afternoon session that day a half dozen women will talk on "what should be the program of the democratic party in 1928." These are Mrs. Edward T. Smith, of Missouri; Mrs. Howard M. Hoge, of Virginia; Mrs. Charlton Dunn, of Mississippi; Mrs. Callie E. Coates, of Maryland; Mrs. William A. Dupuy, of Washington, and Mrs. Bertha L.
Cates, of North Carolina.

The Women's National Democratic club, "regular" feminine organization of the democratic party, is keeping hands off this meeting.

M. O. SHRINER DIES AT HOME HERE; NATIVE OF CANADA

M. O. Shriner, 52, foreman of the Atlanta Sheet Metal works, died Thursday afternoon at the residence, 532 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mr. Shriner was a native of Canada, moving to Atlanta about four years ago. He was a member of the First Baptist church, of Welland, Ontario; an Odd Fellow, Bellevue lodge at Niagara Falls, N. Y., and the Foresters, of the same place.

Surviving are his widow and a daughter, Ethel Shriner; a sister, Mrs.
A. Fisher, and mother, M. Shriner, both of Welland, Ontario.

CHAPLIN COMEDY WILL BE SCREENED IN NEW YORK COURT

New York, May 5.—Federal Judge
William Bondy will see a good movie Friday.

Charlie Chaplin's war-time comedy,
"Shoulder Arms," will be flashed on an improvised screen in the courtroom of the Federal court building. The comedy is being used for plagiarism by Leo Loeb, who charged Chaplin stole the plot of the piece from his scenario, "The Rookie." Loeb is seeking $50,000 damages.

Judge Bondy agreed with Chaplin's attorney that the only way to settle the dispute was to have the Loeb scenario read in court while a projection machine exhibited "Shoulder Arms."

DOCTOR AND WIFE INJURED IN CRASH

Dr. and Mrs. Paul West, the latter a member of the board of education, were treated at Grady hospital clinic Thursday for injuries received when the automobile which Dr. West was driving crashed into a telephone pole near the corner of Flat Shoals avenue and May street.

Mrs. West suffered a scalp wound, while her husband's left wrist was deeply gashed. Both were rushed to the hospital by residents of the neighborhood, and were allowed to return to their home at 715 Woodland avenue after treatment.

Guy Haygood, 17, of 91 West Harris street, and M. A. Moore, 18, of Center Hill, were treated at Grady hospital Thursday for injuries sustained when the rear tire of a motorcycle they were riding on Peters street blew out and threw the machine out of control.

Haygood saw the pair hurled heavily to the street, the motorcycle pinning Haygood beneath it. The youths were dismissed after treatment.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY OFFERS STATE PRIZE

Savannah, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)
The Georgia Historical society announces the offer for the year 1927 a prize of $250 to the person submitting the best article on some subject in the history of Georgia. The work must be based on original research and properly documented. The length of the treatise should not be over 5, 000 words.

The following rules are announced:
"Only one manuscript may be entered by an individual, and must not have been previously published."

"All manuscripts must be typewritten on one side of the paper only."
"The article is not to be signed, but the real name of the author must accompany the manuscript and must be enclosed in a separate envelope on which must be written the name of the historical article."

"The competition is open to anyone without restriction."
"The society reserves the right to publish in its magazine any article submitted."

"Each manuscript must be sent to Charles F. Groves, secretary of the Georgia Historical society, Savannah, Ga., not later than January 1, 1928."
The award will be announced in the March, 1928, number of the Georgia Historical Quarterly.

McCormick Chiefs Are Here For Divisional Sales Meeting

A tri-state convention of the sales and advertising forces of McCormick & Co., Inc., of Baltimore, foremost American house of importers and packers, today will get under way at the Henry Grady hotel, with an intensive selling campaign for the famous Bee and Banquet brands of food products as its objective.

The conference will last through Saturday, assembling approximately 25 representatives of the McCormick company from Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. Sessions will be under direction of W. W. Durham and E. K.
Crown, field sales managers, and J.
S. Luttrell, manager of the McCormick tea department, who are here from Baltimore.

Every phase of business affecting the widely-known Bee and Banquet brands of food products will be discussed by those associated with this great importing house which gathers its materials from the four corners of the earth and sells them in every state in the Union.

During its 33 years in business, the McCormick company has grown from an enterprise first financed with $500, to be the largest house of its kind in the world. Its great plant in Baltimore is said to be the largest concrete and steel structure south of New York, being nine stories high and covering 12 1/2 acres of floor space.

Southern salesmen attending the convention will compete for a prize of a handsome suit of clothes to be awarded the owner of the most attractive sample case, and a full program of business and entertainment has been arranged.

"Atlanta was selected for the tri-state convention because it is truly the 'Gate City of the South,'" Mr.
Durham said Thursday. "Never in my life have I seen a city grow and develop as Atlanta is growing. I am more deeply impressed with its future than with that of any other city in the country."

Mr. Crown also praised the city, drawing attention to the many new downtown office and business buildings which have recently been erected.
Mr. Luttrell, who leads the entire tea department of the house of Mccormick and who will direct the sessions of the convention devoted to that beverage, is recognized as America's greatest authority on tea.

WARE AND COMPANY HANDLE MANY DEALS

With approximately $400,000 involved in the sale of Atlanta business handled through George W. Ware & Co., since January 1, 41 parties from 19 different states have been brought to Atlanta and established in business, according to A. S. Thompson, manager of the business brokerage department.

Besides influencing that number of outsiders to invest in Atlanta the firm now is negotiating with nearly an equal number of prospects from points as far off as New York, and every indication points to the greater part of these permanently locating in Atlanta.

Mr. Thompson stated:
"This remarkable showing is a clear sign of Atlanta's prominence in the eyes of the country," the business broker declared. "The attractive business conditions of this city together with the steady advertising policy adopted by this firm has caused the large response from enterprising persons of all sections of America."

Included in the list of purchasers of Atlanta businesses handled through the office of George W. Ware & Co. are three from New York state, one from Massachusetts, two from Ohio, one from Pennsylvania, three from South Carolina, five from Tennessee, one from Texas, one from California, one from New Jersey, one from Kentucky, two from Alabama, three from Florida,

Augusta, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)
The fifth annual joint diocesan convention of the Young People's service league of the dioceses of Atlanta and Georgia will be held in Augusta, May 6-8. The Church of the Good Shepherd is the hostess church and plans have been completed by the Augusta league to make this the biggest and best convention that has ever been held.
The meeting will be presided over by Charles Cramer, president of the joint diocesan organization. Mr. Cramer is past president of the Epiphany league, Atlanta.

$7,443,267 RAISED FOR RELIEF FUND

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—Contributions to the Red Cross $10,000,000 flood relief fund tonight totaled $7,443,267. Eastern states gave $4,500,562; the middle west $1,794,000, and the Pacific coast states $751,450, of which $150,000 were foreign contributions.

ACTORS GENEROUS IN BENEFIT SHOW

and the motion picture machine operators will go to the Georgia theater and work with the artists on the Georgia bill in presenting the production.

Success of the last benefit show staged for the Tallulah Falls school, given by the same associated theatrical people in charge of the production Friday night, assures the people of Atlanta that they will get several times the benefit of their money in entertainment and at the same time give them an opportunity of indirectly helping direct aid to the sufferers of the flooded areas.

More Money Needed.

As the news from the flood zone is received it is indicated that much more money will be needed in relief work and presentation of the show Friday night will give Atlanta people a chance to demonstrate their sympathy with the victims of the raging Mississippi river.

Arrangements have been made for running the big benefit show smoothly throughout. It will begin at 10 o'clock and the acts will be selected from the best of the numerous acts which have volunteered from the show. The show will be presented by the Metropolitan theater, while an amusing impersonation will be presented by some of the leading artists of the Forsyth Players. The players from the Erlanger theater will not appear at the show Friday night as they will offer a benefit performance Monday night at that theater.

In addition to the regular acts the artists have arranged many surprises for the audience and all have entered into the spirit of the occasion with so much enthusiasm there is little doubt that the people will enjoy an old and original production Friday night.

Cooperation Given

Cooperation of Atlanta is in making the benefit show a success and have arranged to take various blocks of seats.

Mayor I. N. Rogstad Thursday gave his hearty approval of the plan to present the benefit and issued the following statement of endorsement:

"My attention has been called to a special benefit performance to be given by the theatrical managers of Atlanta at the Georgia theater Friday night following the regular show. The entire proceeds of which will be donated to the Mississippi flood sufferers."

"All the shows in town, I am told, will contribute their talent to this cause and the bill will comprise a big show of the best acts from the various theaters."

"Everyone who reads the newspaper is acquainted with the horrors of the flood and the great need of its victims for financial assistance. With the first needs of the sufferers met, the still greater problems of preventing an epidemic of disease and rehabilitating those who lost their possessions are now presenting themselves."

"It is a generous contribution to the relief cause on the part of the theater and actors to give of their time and talents to serve the suffering. I hope that a crowd sufficient to tax the theater's capacity will be present to greet their efforts. Patrons will enjoy the pleasure of seeing an extra good show and of contributing at the same time to a worthy and necessary charity."

RUTH'S SLAVE MAN STICKS TO STORY

Guard Against Collapse

Two white-collared hospital attendants stood in the aisle directly in front of Gray ready against possible collapse. The moment he grasped the weight, his mother, Mrs. Margaret Gray, hurried from the courtroom. Even a mother could not bear that kind of drama, Mrs. Gray returned, however, and sat through the afternoon, sobbing.

"We didn't cry like you did yesterday when you told of this?" asked his inquisitor.

"Is it because it is easier to tell the actual than to tell of it?" Wallace continued.

The man did not reply.

Then he fearfully handed the weight—the iron bar that his hands had not felt since the night he struck the head of the sleeping husband—to an attendant. If it had dropped there would have been business for the white-coated attendants. Gray sat down. His hands had not trembled.

Keeps Head Lowered

Ruth Snyder, the feisty wife who now is the widow, did not look up. The woman Judd Gray swears "knocked out" her husband when his hands faltered kept her head lowered most of the day. Her chest was never seen to heave though, and the muscles in her throat were relaxed. When she did look up her eyes were dry and her face was frozen in the same hard lines it has worn during most of the trial.

Gray's weakest testimony was regarding what he knew of Albert Snyder's heavy insurance. The questioning came on cross-examination just before the close of the session—his answers were not direct. Possibly he was tired. He seemed so.

Previously he had sworn that he, late in December of 1926, talked with Mrs. Snyder about the heavy insurance premium she was paying on her husband's policy. He had testified

No More Piles

Thousands Bess D. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common Sense Remedy

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

This Doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting, he discovered the cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause.

Every pile sufferer should benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay, Jacob Drug Stores and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will act as stated or money back.

On that honorable basis every sufferer should cure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today.

he told her "she ought to cancel them if she couldn't afford to pay the price." When Wallace pressed him about this he said "I had never talked with Mrs. Snyder about insurance, making a glaring contradiction.

Judd said he did remember talking with Ruth about his own insurance which was of the straight life type and amounted to $20,000 at the time. The precise salesman amended this information with the remarks that "now I carry $50,000."

Wallace smiled at the jury. He had his man going now.

"And wasn't it about this time that you told Haddon Gray that you were planning to buy into your firm?"

"I don't remember telling Haddon Gray that," said the witness.

"Haddon Gray said you did."

"But I already had bought into my firm before this."

Wallace continued.

"I bought five shares in my firm some time before this—early in March. I think, and I paid for them with money I had earned and some that I borrowed from a bank in New York."

Gray then testified he knew nothing of a plan attributed to him of buying into a carpet factory where the firm for which he worked.

Wallace Storms, Thunder.

Wallace stormed and thundered and legal points flew through the air as the lawyer said that he had shouldered his way into the courtroom and even the wit from those behind.

He sought to break down Gray's story of mental and physical domination by the strong-minded woman.

"You went into this because her power over you was so dominant that you could not resist her?" he asked.

"Yes, sir," said Gray. "Her power over me gradually grew until I could not refuse her anything."

When were you first completely under her domination?

"Last May or June when she first got me to try out those sleeping powder."

"But you did succeed in breaking away from her on occasions?"

"Yes, sir. But, Mr. Wallace, I believe it is possible her spirit directed me up when she was explaining to me that I knew she could draw me back when she willed."

Could Not Recall Visit.

The witness could not recall a visit he had previously admitted to the Snyder home.

"I remind you of it," said Wallace. "It was the night you said Mr. Snyder and yourself were together in little Lorraine's room."

"Yes, I am ashamed to say, I remember," said Gray.

"Did you always use the baby's room?"

"Always except one time, I am ashamed to say."

For a long time Gray read parts from his written confession. He found very little to strike out, but there were paragraphs. One was where he referred to Mrs. Snyder as a woman of great charm, but I don't need to tell you that."

Wallace pointed out this omission and tried to draw out an explanation from the witness. Counsel for Gray objected. But Justice Townsend Sander supplied a reason.

"Possibly the man has changed his opinion of the woman since that statement was made," remarked the court.

Gray nodded his head sadly.

Abbi Trouble's Room.

One of the greatest burdens that Gray placed on the credibility of the jury was his statement that, in building up his complicated alibi to show that he was in Syracuse on the night of the murder he had no idea of the murder in his mind.

"I intended to tell Mr. Wallace," he said, "just to cover the fact I was out of Syracuse I never thought this thing would be so important."

Gray likes high sounding words and he uses the longest one possible on all occasions. Once he corrected "place" to "place" carrying some of the under-equipment for ten days before using it. "I transported it," said Gray.

As Gray sought to aid his interpretation, Wallace asked him to explain regarding the contents of the bag he took back to Syracuse after the murder. One by one the contents of the grip and his case were enumerated. Gray admitted them. Wallace started to begin on another line when the witness remarked:

"And the rubber gloves were in there, too, Mr. Wallace?"

A damaging blow was struck by counsel for Mrs. Snyder at Gray's plea that he was "out of his mind from intoxication" the night he swung the sash-weight.

Was In Semi-Haze.

"You were intoxicated when you touched the pistol to the dead man's hands?" asked Wallace.

"Yes, sir," replied the witness. "I was in a semi-hazy state."

"And you were in this intoxicated semi-haze when you so carefully picked up the coat to throw on the floor in your closet?"

"But the gloves were my hickie gloves," remarked the witness—just why no one knew.

"And when did you recover from this intoxicated semi-haze?"

"Some time before I reached Albany."

Wallace tried to ascertain exactly how much liquor Gray drank on the murder night, but he soon was lost in a maze of half pints, four-ounce bottles, quart bottles and a well-stocked still.

"It was too dark in the room to see how much I emptied out of the bottle," said the witness.

From time to time Gray would half turn toward the jury and remark: "I'm trying to tell you the truth, Mr. Wallace, the best that I know."

The Snyder defense was elated over the effect of the cross-examination. Both of her lawyers insisted they had greatly strengthened her case. Gray hurt himself, according to the lawyers, by his eagerness to hurt Mrs. Snyder.

Gray gave his testimony in a passionless, expressionless tone, apparently no more interested in the effect of his words than a radio loud speaker would be. He went out of his way both yesterday and today to strike at his co-defendant and former mistress.

After the dramatic story of yesterday and the throbbing moment today when Gray waved the sash-weight, the jury seemed to lose a certain amount of interest.

This afternoon for the most part they leaned back in their chairs and watched the mob in the courtroom chase one another about.

Madame Hemmel's complaint involved a "marriage contract."

Through her secretary, Madame Hemmel declined to explain the "very valuable consideration" which she first the secretary said she thought "Miss Hemmel wouldn't want it published that way."

Later the singer sent word that she could say nothing more about the nature of the contract, but that it would "all be cleared up when the suit comes to trial."

Madame Hemmel is sailing this month for Europe to fill opera engagements in Paris, Berlin, Munich and Budapest. She will return to the United States in December.

ORATORY CONTEST SET FOR TONIGHT

Birmingham, Ala., May 5.—(Special.)—The stage is set for the regional finals in the Fourth National Oratorical contest and the second international debate on the constitution of the United States. The event will take place in the Birmingham Municipal auditorium Friday night.

Contestants who will compete for the right to enter the national finals are as follows: John N. Bryson, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Jack M. Caldwell, Dayton, Tenn.; Andrew C. Gilbert, Brunswick, Ga.; Maxwell Lancaster, Birmingham, Ala.; Miss Donnie Margaret Carmack, Louisville, Ky.; Miss Betsy Perrow, Asheville, N. C.

The Birmingham Police and will give added impetus to the debate with a concert.

Judges who will decide the winners are Earl Browder, former governor of Mississippi; Dunbar Boland, Mississippi state historian; Dr. John C. Fuhrer, president of the University of Arkansas; Charles Theodore Greer, Cincinnati attorney and president of the State Historical society, and J. A. Van Osdel, Anderson, Ind., chairman of the citizens' committee, State Bar association.

A number of the contestants have already arrived and the judges are expected to reach Birmingham Friday morning.

Birmingham will entertain the contestants at the Phillips High school Friday afternoon. This school produced the Alabama representative and has also given to the south four championships.

The Birmingham Allied Arts club will be host to the contestants after the finals Friday night, entertaining with a dinner and program.

The contest was sponsored in Georgia by The Constitution and high school students competed, under the direction of Dr. Joseph Stewart, of Athens.

Discussion of trade barriers, the local point of the conference, was crystallized in live resolutions, dealing with tariff, mail agreement and agricultural restrictions. Three called for studies looking toward reduction of customs duties.

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—With the adoption of resolutions advocating the removal of obstacles to inter-American trade, increase of transportation facilities throughout Latin America and standardizing of customs procedure, the third Pan-American commercial conference adjourned today.

Secretary Mellon entertained the delegates at luncheon. Secretary Kellogg and Mrs. Kellogg gave a reception in their honor tonight at the Pan-American union. President Coolidge will receive them tomorrow.

Sophy Tancred's Husbands

By ELIZABETH YORK MILLER.

SYNOPSIS

Sophy and Piers Tancred have lately taken the Villa Mona at Bordighera on the Italian Riviera. Sophy, a former actress, is a woman of the world, and Piers, a former diplomat, is a man of the world. They are both well-to-do and have a large circle of friends. Piers is a confirmed bachelor, and Sophy is a confirmed spinster. They are both very fond of each other, but they are both very much in love with other people. Piers is in love with a young girl named Lilla Brant, and Sophy is in love with a young man named Willie Moppet. They are both very much in love with each other, but they are both very much in love with other people.

INSTALLMENT XXIII.

Willie Plays a Waiting Game.

Willie stared at the hotel proprietor.

"Anything wrong with that?"

Bersch asked. "The Prince—a Duke—was of the highest. Her husband is a friend of my family, I believe."

"No," said Willie, in a tone of disconcerting dubiety. "Nothing wrong at all. He has plenty of money."

This ought to have satisfied M.

Bersch, but it didn't altogether. He tried to get Willie to explain that note of a "t" in his voice, but the latter merely said, "his head and unfaded sarcasm."

"Splendid! Now we shall have all the ladies preening their feathers," he said. "Lord Landell is a bachelor, and has a great reputation as such.

Well, I must be off. A rider?"

Willie Moppet's dinner engagement that evening was a business affair with two merchants of Como who held vested interests in that most flourishing of all Italian industries, the manufacture of "antiques." Willie acted for them as a broker between an middleman, a profitable position, since he was in constant contact with people who could be persuaded by the eye, to invest in the "old goods," he happened upon in coming hunting expeditions or even in the hum-drums of a social gathering.

Willie dined these commercial gentleman at the Doria as a means of impressing them, but afterwards, for their practical business, they resorted to Gallo's cafe, a pleasant place where they sat at a marble topped table in the trellised arcade and had coffee and liqueurs. Being near the station it was also convenient, since antique dealers were staying at San

Reno and had to catch a train back.

Willie saw them off to the train finally and it was only by the merest accident that he returned to Gallo's. He had left his walking stick there and since it was a fine malacca cane and had been a present to him he did not wish to run the risk of losing it.

The hour was getting on for eleven when he strolled into Gallo's for second time and with a word to the proprietor, who was adding up the day's profits in the front room, he went back into the arcade to look for his stick.

It was a beautiful night—Willie had already noted the moon with a wistful sigh—and the arcade led to a balmy garden where the scent of the roses and jasmine, and near enough to the sea to give an illusion even though the railway line did run between it and the actual shore. Here, then, was not all a had setting for romance of the humbler order, not to be compared with the gardens of the Doria, of course, nor faintly touch

the Villa Mona's, but nevertheless, adequate.

It would not have surprised Willie

Moppet in the least to find a sentimental couple or two mooning about until Gallo should decide it was time to close up, but it did surprise him to discover a certain couple. He had just retrieved his stick and was on the point of departing, when a familiar sounding guffaw from the garden halted him.

Could he be mistaken? Or had he recognized that voice?

Thoughtfully he subsided into a chair, lit a cigarette and rang for

Gallo, from whom he ordered a rasberry syrup. Then he took a notebook from his pocket and, consulting the proprietor, began to tot up his own gains, but with at least half an ear trained upon the garden, he spite the bright moon it was rather dark out there in the shrubbery. He Willie's policy was one of "wait and see," and also one of "the seen," since mere hearsay had no practical advantage in a case like this.

The other voice, the light mischievous, with its sweetly foreign flavor might easily belong to the young

Swiss lady of the lace shop, although Willie was not absolutely certain, but the guffaw he felt sure about.

His suspicion was verified a moment later when the couple emerged from the shrubbery into the full light of the arcade, and there sat Willie Moppet waiting to receive them.

Now there had been a little, although not a great deal of truth in Lilla Brant's insinuations concerning Piers Tancred and the pretty Swiss.

It was true that Piers had danced with her a few times at the Casino, which was no crime, and it was also true that he had on one occasion financed her very moderately at the gaming tables, where low stakes were the rule. But this was the first time that Piers had adventured any further, and so it was rather bad luck on him to be caught, and by Willie

Moppet, of all persons. Moreover, Piers was the sort of a man who carries off such situations awkwardly. He possessed no natural savoir faire and in consequence he both looked and felt far more guilty than he actually was.

Willie, who knew the rules of this game and would have played them—

although he hoped for blundering on Piers part—was for ignoring the couple, except to let Piers know from the tail of his eye that he had seen

Piers, however, blundered handsomely. He gave a painful gasp and his dark face grew mottled, while he glared like a disgraced fiddler. Willie half rose and bowed gravely in forced acknowledgment of these signs. Then he returned to his notebook and rasberry syrup.

The couple passed out. Piers clumsily pushing the girl ahead of him. He must have abandoned her in the garden, for the couple, in a couple of minutes he was back again charging down upon the truly inof-fensive Mr. Moppet, who, being interrupted, the scene in his own calculations, frowned and then raised his eyebrows.

"Now," said Piers, standing squarely before him, "I want to know what this means?"

"None of your sneaky tricks on me," thundered Piers. "You're saying, that's what you are? Sophy's tipped you off to spy on me. But let me tell you, my good fellow—

Willie halted him with a languid gesture.

"Please don't talk rot," he said wearily. "If I had the faintest idea what you're driving at, I'd be obliged."

"You know well enough what I'm saying," said Piers.

"I know you're being damned impertinent," Willie retorted, closing the rubber band about his book with a vision snap. "And I'll bid you good evening."

"Wait a minute. Didn't you follow me and that little bit of goods from the casino?" Piers demanded.

"I did not," Willie said coldly. "I haven't been near the casino this evening, although that's none of your business."

Piers began to waver and now he repeated of his hastyness.

"Well, you caught me right enough," he muttered. "Although there ain't anything in it. Now, I suppose, you'll tell me what what you've seen—or that chatterbox, Lilla

Brant, you're so pally with, which amounts to the same thing."

Willie's eyebrows did not go up any higher because they couldn't.

"Really?" he exclaimed. "Really?"

He pushed by Piers in the disgusted manner of one escaping from a disagreeable odor—delicate, slim, elegant

Mr. Moppet, with his nose in the air and that hard glitter in his eyes which betokened that some sort of financial calculation was at work in his busy brain. He had this fish well looked and it would do him no harm to play him. Tomorrow might be a better day than this for making a landing.

LIONS' CONVENTION OPENS AT ALBANY

Albany, Ga., May 5.—Georgia is expected to lead all districts outside of Florida in representation at the Lions' international convention at Miami June 14-18, with a delegation several hundred strong, according to officials at the Georgia state convention which opened here this morning.

Active in bringing the international gathering of 12,000 to 15,000 Lions and their friends to the Pacific coast, District Governor W. A. Mann, of Macon, and T. H. Halliburton, of Macon, a director and member of the executive committee of Lions International, stated today that they were confident that Georgia will not only have a large delegation at Miami but will win honors in several of the contests to be held, including an international beauty revue.

The sixth annual convention of the 18th district, comprising Lions clubs in the state of Georgia, opened its session here at the municipal auditorium this morning. It was called to order by President J. G. Homan, of the local Lions club, who gave a short address of welcome on the part of the Albany Lions. City Commissioner E. A. Fry, mayor pro tem, in the absence of Mayor Kahoon, who is in Washington, D. C., where he went to receive Albany national trophy in the fire waste prevention contest, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city. President Homan then turned the convention over to W. A. Mann, of Macon, district governor.

Business of the convention will include the adoption of a revised constitution and by-laws.

A model luncheon at the New Albany hotel at noon conducted by the Macon Lions was the first entertainment of the two-day convention. This afternoon the delegates attended a ball game between the Albany Nuts and

Mrs. Chaplin Asks Alimony Of $1,250,000

Los Angeles, May 5.—(AP)—Counsel for Charlie Chaplin tonight disclosed that $1,250,000 had been set by Lita Grey Chaplin as the sum for which she would settle her sensational divorce suit against the film comedian.

Mrs. Chaplin's demand was disclosed in a formal statement issued by her attorneys, which she refused to make public.

At all times, Chaplin's attorneys declared, their client has been willing to give Mrs. Chaplin in excess of her share of the community property to facilitate such a settlement. They said, Chaplin had agreed to retain an accountant to make an audit of the books, showing to "the last nickel" what her share of the property is.

"The plaintiff's chief counsel and uncle, Edwin T. McMurray," the statement concludes, "has informed Mrs. Chaplin that she is entitled to a share of the community property, and she has agreed to give it to her."

Tonight there was an elaborate banquet at Hotel Garden, followed by a dance at the Radium Springs Club casino.

The final business session will be held Friday morning when officers will be elected and a next place of meeting selected. The convention activities will be brought to a close at an outdoor luncheon at the fair grounds Friday at noon.

"Meet the Wife" (Stock)—The great comedy success that rounds out the week-end today at the Forsyth already has set a new attendance record at the theater and side fair to set a mark that other shows will have difficulty in meeting. Any time a wonderful laugh show comes to town the folks all get talking. Result: Big crowds, hearty laughs, and everybody happy. Miss Ellis Baker, Dick Stebbins, Fred Raymond and Gus Forbes are "getting up" this week, with a galaxy of stars in support that include Rhea Dwyer, Lavonne Keating, Betty Laurence, Gus Forbes, Jane Stuart, Jane Stuart, Jay Mulvey and others.

Metropolitan.

"The Lady in Ermine"—Corinne Griffith, Francis X. Bushman and Einar Hansen are the bright particular stars of "The Lady in Ermine," which is proving a delightful screen attraction at the Metropolitan theater this week. The vitaphone program is registering the biggest kind of a hit in Atlanta. Milton Sills and Mary Astor are co-starring in "The Sea Tiger," which will be the feature screen attraction at the Metropolitan theater next week.

Loew's Grand.

Vaudeville and Pictures.—Ruth Royce, the vaudeville comedienne, is scoring a big hit as the headliner on the bill of vaudeville on the boards at Loew's Grand theater this week. Other stars are Harry Robinson, "Hand-Boiled" Hampton, Phoebe Whiteside, Arthur Layne and company. In a lively day act, two comedy aerobatic dancers, and Sammie and Sonia in a dancing act. Loew's feature picture is "The Show," with John Gilbert, Renee Adoree and Lionel Barrymore in leading roles.

Keith's Georgia.

Vaudeville and Pictures.—Six of Eddie Fox's successors, meaning that many members of his family, are appearing this week at Keith's Georgia theater, and all have proved worthy members of his famous comedian's household. There is Eddie Fox, Jr., destined to be equal to the name. Charles Fox, already a clever comedian, doing a single in vaudeville and imitating his father's voice and actions on the stage. Then we have Madelyn, Irving, Mary and Dick Fox. Friday night they will all appear on the benefit performance to raise money for the food sufferers along the Mississippi river.

Howard.

"Resurrection." The program being presented at the Howard theater this week is headed by the screen version of "The Tolstoy" immortal love drama, "Resurrection." The picture has received a great deal of praise from audiences this week and many have declared the performance of Dolores Del Rio and Rod La Rocque, who appear in the leading roles, to be superb in every sense of the word. Dolores Del Rio, "the queen" on the stage, is one of the most delightful of the entire series of Public offerings. Turk McBee, Jr., appears as an added stage attraction.

Speaking of Luck

We are rather inclined to scout the idea that a rabbit's foot is lucky; but we cannot deny that a rabbit is lucky to have four of them when a dog gets after him.

Which, after all, is just commonsense, not luck. Some people say they have no luck in finding bargains in the stores. Fact of the matter is they just neglect to read the advertisements in The Constitution every morning.

They read them occasionally, and because they fail to find something at a real bargain that interests them on these occasions they pass up the advertisements—and then it happens, they miss them and attribute it to "no luck."

We're going to keep right on insisting that you read the advertisements in The Constitution EVERY morning—you'll adopt the custom eventually and be "lucky" forever afterward.

ADVERTISING IN THE CONSTITUTION PAYS THE ADVERTISER AND SAVES THE BUYER.

'ROOKIES' MOVIE COMING TO GRAND FOR ENTIRE WEEK

Atlanta amusement lovers should get out their laugh absorbers and thrill snubbers if they want to sit normally through the sensational laugh success, "Rookies," the feature picture which is coming to Atlanta for a week's engagement, beginning Monday at Loew's Grand.

This picture is one which blends laughs with thrills at the rate of several a minute, according to those who witnessed a pre-screening of the picture Thursday. Karl Dane and George K. Arthur, an inimitable pair of comedians, take leading roles, and the humorous adventures they meet as revealed in "Rookies" forms a film comedy which surpasses anything of its kind seen here in years.

While the comedy action is a whirlwind nature, there are some of the most original features staged in the picture for thrill purposes. There are several runaway balloons, a unique race and at one point in the picture the antics of the comedians in diving from these balloons with parachutes and the landingings keep the audience in a high pitch of suspense and excitement.

"Rookies" as a comedy and as a thriller is a masterpiece, according to those who have seen it, and they predict it will be one of the record-breaking films for comedy during its engagement at Loew's Grand.

Besides the balloon race, there are fights, riots, melees and other scenes of excitement, staged in a high vein of comedy, which crowd the picture with stirring action from start to finish.

NEW LAW FRATERNITY PLANNED AT EMORY

Emory University, Ga., May 5.—(Special).—The petition of the Gamma Rho local law fraternity located at Emory university filed with the Georgia state secretary of state last week has been passed by the 48 active chapters of the national group, and the installation ceremony will be held at Loew's Grand theater, Monday, May 7, according to a letter received by Emory University, president of the national fraternity, from Rex Hardy, national secretary at Phi Alpha Delta.

The coming of the new national fraternity to the Emory campus establishes the second law fraternity in the Lamar School of Law, the other being Phi Delta Phi.

The name of the new chapter at Emory will be the William A. Keener chapter of the Phi Alpha Delta fraternity. The chapter will be named in honor of Judge William Albert Keener, formerly dean of the Columbia Law school, who died in 1904. Judge Keener was an Emory alumnus of the class of '74.

SOUTH CAROLINA BANK IS ROBBED OF $5,900

Florence, S. C., May 5.—(AP)—State and county officers were tonight working on a clue which they hoped would lead to the capture of the white men who at noon today robbed the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Coward, of $5,900 in currency. The officers are certain the robbery was committed by amateurs.

One of the two men held the assistant cashier, R. H. Smith, at the point of a pistol, while the other entered the vault and took the bundles of currency. Smith was then ordered into the vault and the door was closed upon him.

Ten minutes later he was released by Troy C. Lynch, cashier of the bank, who returned from an errand at the school house. Smith suffered little from his confinement. The robbers left a pile of money on the counters. They did not burden themselves with silver, several bags of which were in the vault.

Rialto.
"Fashions for Women."—Esther Ralston, she of the golden hair and skin so fair, is at the Rialto theater this week in "Fashions for Women," her first individual starring effort. A combined style revue which marks one of the high spots of the movie year, and a charming and humorous love story. The feature is accompanied by a comedy, "Whispering Whiskers." Pathe News is shown, and Frank Turner provides the music, wielding the baton over the Rialto orchestra.

'Know the South,' Oratorical Contest To Be Held at Emory

Emory University, Ga., May 5.—(Special).—Representatives of 20 colleges are expected at Emory university Saturday to participate in the "Know the South" semi-annual oratorical contest, which was announced about two months ago.

Every four-year college and university in 16 southern states under the terms of the contest was entitled to name a representative. These states were divided into four regional groups: South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and Florida form one of the regions and Professor Nolan A. Goodyear, of Emory university has been designated as regional director.

The contest is sponsored by the Nashville Banner, which gives all of the prizes, and is under the management of Professor A. M. Harris, Vanderbilt university, chairman; Professor C. W. Paul, University of Virginia; Professor John Quinn Adams, Louisiana State university; Professor George McKie, University of North Carolina; Professor W. G. Richards, University of Mississippi; Professor P. S. Buchanan, University of Florida; J. A. J. In the semi-finals one representative is chosen from each region to represent it in the finals which will be held in the State War Memorial building at Nashville, on May 21.

The subject of each speech must be "The Progress, Resources and Needs of the South." The winner of the contest will receive a handsome silver trophy will be presented. The prizes in the finals are: First, $500; second, $250; third, $125; fourth, $100.

Bishop Candler To Open Jarrell Lectures at Emory

Emory University, Ga., May 5.—(Special).—Bishop Warren A. Candler will deliver the first series of Jarrell lectures at Emory university during the week beginning Sunday, May 8, it is announced.

The Jarrell lectures, named after the late Bishop J. H. Jarrell, will open the series of 11 o'clock Sunday morning, May 8, in the Theological chapel, and will speak each evening through Friday at 8 o'clock. The topics of the individual lectures have been announced as follows: Sunday, May 8, "Obligation of Belief"; Monday, May 9, "Nature and Need of a Creed"; Tuesday, May 10, "The Creed Factual and Not Speculative"; Wednesday, May 11, "The Christology of the Creed"; Thursday, May 12, "The Christology of the Creed—The Resurrection of the Christ"; Friday, May 13, "The Permanence of the Creed."

The A. J. Jarrell lectureship was founded by Rev. C. C. Jarrell, of Atlanta, in honor of his father and it is at the special request of Dr. Jarrell that Bishop Candler is opening the lectures to be given under the foundation.

T. N. BEACH SPEAKS AT REALTORS' LUNCH

Thomas N. Beach, of Birmingham, was principal speaker at a luncheon of the Atlanta Real Estate board Thursday at Vaughan's tea room. Mr. Beach spoke on "Selling Business Property." He is one of the best known real estate dealers in Birmingham, and a veteran in the selling of business property.

RAIDING PARSON FILM TO BE SEEN SATURDAY

"The Raiding Parson," a story of the Rev. Robert Stewart, north Georgia native, who was killed by a mob of north Georgia moonshiners last October, will be shown Saturday night at the Rialto theater.

The picture was screened several years ago in the sections of north Georgia in the heart of the moonshining districts and pictures many of the raiding scenes.

Through error, it was announced in Thursday's Constitution that the picture will be shown Sunday night.

COLONEL KENDRICK CONDITION SERIOUS

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—The condition of Lieutenant Colonel William J. Kendrick, finance officer of the fourth corps area, Atlanta, who has been under treatment at Walter Reed hospital here for some time, was said at the war department Thursday to be serious since a relapse suffered last Monday. The medical officers at the hospital, however, were said not to pronounce the officer's case as hopeless.

LIEUT. COL. W. J. KENDRICK

COLONEL KENDRICK WELL KNOWN HERE

Colonel Kendrick's condition, according to members of his family, was said to be critical late Thursday. He has been a resident at Fort McPherson since early in 1922 when he was placed in charge of finances of the fourth corps area. He has taken an active part in the organization of various branches of the government service, and organized the Atlanta board of finance department of the organized reserves many years ago. During a recent inspection trip here, 1,544 officers of the government service, and officials from Washington, D. C., Colonel Kendrick's organization was said to be the best in the southern states.

LAVONIA VOTES TAX EXEMPTION ON NEW PLANTS

Ex-Governor Slaton To Deliver Address At American School

Americus, Ga., May 5.—(Special).—Professor J. E. Mathis, superintendent of the American school, today announced that former Governor John M. Slaton, of Atlanta, will deliver the literary address at the graduation exercises of the American school on June 2. Mr. Slaton will be accompanied by Mrs. Slaton and will be guests of Professor and Mrs. Mathis during their stay here.

Sacco, Vanzetti Case Brings Threat Note To Governor Fuller

Boston, May 5.—(AP)—The first threat against the person of Governor Alvan T. Fuller in connection with the Sacco and Vanzetti case, as he was preparing to study the appeal for "justice" sent to his office by Vanzetti last night with several affidavits alleging prejudice on the part of Judge Webster Thayer, who conducted the trial of the two men and refused their pleas for a new trial.

Governor Fuller made public the threatening letter without comment and said he would have no statement to make about Vanzetti's appeal until he had read it carefully. The letter was mailed in Chicago yesterday and was signed "The French-American Bankers and Unions-Cooperation Ad-RK."

"If you will execute Sacco and Vanzetti," it was crudely worded threat, "we will murder you, all your family and turn your home into ashes. The same we do with your judge and chief justice as they got our note last week."

Judge Thayer, understood to be away from his home in Worcester for a week's rest, could not be reached today.

Flying Airplane Safer Than Ever, Moffett Asserts

(Copyright 1927, by The Constitution and the Chicago Tribune.)
Washington, May 5.—Flying an airplane is safer today than ever before, in the opinion of Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics of the navy.

In a report to Secretary of the Navy Clegg, in connection with the record large number of air fatalities in the naval service, Admiral Moffett stated that "a general summation of the history of flying in the navy discloses that the unfortunate deaths which have occurred in the last few weeks are not a fair criterion, either of the safety of the airplane or the efficiency of the personnel operating them."

Admiral Moffett said the recent wave of aircraft deaths in the navy is a "vagaries of fortune." He also asserted that naval records during the 12 months ending March 26, 1927, disclosed that over 20,000,000 passenger miles were flown by naval planes.

"During this time," he said, "there were 19 deaths by aircraft for every million miles traveled by the average aviator."

The scouting fleet alone has just completed a cruise during which over 750,000 passenger miles were flown and during which there was neither a serious nor a serious injury to the personnel. Over 3,000 landings have been made on Langley field without even seriously injuring an aviator.

High powered airplane propellers made of metal, instead of wood, compressed into a non-corrosive product of metallic strength, designed to enhance the degree of safety in operation will be used by the navy department on its training planes in the future, it was said.

Now A Flat Rate Per Mile for Hertz Drive-ur-self Service

No Hour Charge Week Days

SELLING motor car miles at retail is a comparatively new business—a business which, we recognize, must be conducted according to the needs and wishes of the public.

Rarely a week passes that does not bring some sweeping improvement in our service—instituted because we've found the public wants it.

And now—in response to your own wishes—Hertz Drive-ur-self Stations announce the kind of a rate which, we have found from experience, meets with instant approval.

There is no hour charge of any kind on week days. Salesmen can now use our service without paying a penalty for waiting time. Pleasure riders now enjoy much lower cost for week-day trips. And on this flat mileage basis, you can figure beforehand exactly what your trip will cost.

If you have used Hertz Drive-ur-self Service—the distinct advantages in this new rate need no explanation. If you haven't—we urge you to do so, and find out for yourself how economical this service really is.

There's a new, easier way to rent a car. If your name is in the phone book, and you are qualified and competent to drive—we rent you a car without further identification. If not—give us one reference, that is all. Either way—you're on the road in about two minutes.

Variety Lends Interest To Social Calendar of May

Variety adds interest to the social calendar of the merry month of May. The attention of the schoolgirl set of society is centered today on the crowning of lovely Miss Adeline Winston as May queen at the Washington seminary festival, which will be an elaborate event held on the seminary lawn at 4:30 o'clock.

Brides-elect, toward whom the world always turns adoring eyes, will come in for their share of entertainment during the day. Miss Mary McCarty, whose marriage to Edgar Dunlap will be one of the prominent events of the month, will be honored guest at Miss Isabelle Breitenbacher's luncheon. Miss Marion Hall, another fete bride-elect of May, will share honors with her fiancé, Dr. Samuel Leslie Morris, Jr., at Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curran's evening bridge party.

The social interest of the city's college and fraternity contingent will be divided between Phi Delta Theta's dinner-dance at East Lake Country club, Tau Delta Tau's circus ball at the Druid Hills club, the Woodberry students' scrip dance at Gerber's hall, and the Theta Kappa Nu's informal dance at the Henry Grady hotel.

Of especial importance to members of Atlanta clubdom is the meeting this afternoon at the tea to be given by Mrs. W. H. Shroder, the "purpose of which is to organize a Garden Hills women's club."

Among the visitors who will be central figures at the day's affairs are Mrs. J. W. Franklin, of Philadelphia, the guest of Mrs. C. Y. House, and Mrs. Melvin Brittain, of San Francisco, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cary Bone.

Wesleyan Alumnae Elect Officers.

The Wesleyan Alumnae of Atlanta held a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Woman's club. Future work of the organization was mapped out and discussed, and new election officers followed. Mrs. Robert G. Stephens was elected general chairman; Mrs. R. K. Rambo, vice chairman; Mrs. A. M. Ryan, secretary and treasurer. The following chairmen of circles were also selected: Mrs. James L. Logan, Mrs. Fred Cole, Mrs. Alfred Truitt, Mrs. Palmer Pratt, Mrs. Susan Martin, Mrs. Palmer Blackburn, Mrs. A. M. Ryan, Mrs. D. M. Byrd, Miss Mayhew Jones.

Judge H. W. Hill, of the supreme court of Georgia, made a talk at the meeting. Greetings were received from Miss Loyall, alumnae secretary of Wesleyan, who invited all Atlanta alumnae to attend Wesleyan commencement May 24-28. Quite a number will go down to Macon for alumnae day, May 28.

Children's Matinee At East Point Theater.

The children's Saturday morning matinee at the Fairfax theater in East Point, will sponsor a "harmonious contest" for both boys and girls. The prize will be a ukulele, presented by the Conn company. The prize will be a harmonica, presented by Ludden & Bates.

"Super Speed" will be the feature picture, starring Reed Howes. The story is reminiscent of a type of picture made famous by the late Wallace Reid, in which the action centers around an automobile race. Ben Alexander in "Scotty of the Scouts," and an educational comedy will also be shown.

The performance will be in charge of the Hawthorne children's club, Mrs. W. M. Schneider, better films chairman. Chaperons will be Mrs. Thomas Lewis, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mrs. George W. Taylor, Mrs. Julia Gardner, Mrs. W. F. Gilliam, and Mrs. L. M. Smith.

Seats will be at the car stops, and the theater will open at 9 o'clock. Admission, children 10c, adults 20c.

Miss Pickard Honored At Lovely Dance.

A very delightful affair of Thursday evening was the dance at which Miss Julia Gardner was hostess at her home on Peachtree road in honor of Miss Augusta Pickard, a popular bride-elect.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Joseph F. Gordon, mother of the hostess; Mrs. John A. Pickard, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. E. C. Cobb.

Miss Pickard was dressed in a green georgette combined with cream lace and Miss Gardner was gowned in peach-colored chiffon with velvet trim.

About one hundred guests were present.

Cake Sale At Oakhurst.

A cake sale will be held by the primary department of Oakhurst Baptist Sunday school on Saturday afternoon. It is announced at C. H. H. avenue and East Lake drive. Proceeds of the sale are to be used for beaverbanding the department room.

Benefit Bridge Party To Be Given Friday.

A benefit bridge party will be sponsored by Mrs. L. F. McClelland, better known as chairman, and Mrs. Luther Still, chairman of the committee, Friday evening, May 6, at the West End Woman's club, 1100 Cascade avenue, at 7 o'clock. High and low awards will be given at each table and many handsome draw prizes will be awarded. Delicious refreshments will be served through the courtesy of the Cascade Drug company.

Those having tickets reserved are: Miss Bess DeMone, Miss Ruth Still, Miss Dale Jenkins, Mrs. J. S. Gordon, Mrs. Hoy Simpson, Mrs. Rich and Daley, Mrs. L. W. Moore, Mrs. Robert Brothers, Mrs. Carl Faires, Mrs. P. C. Faye, Mrs. L. F. McClelland, Mrs. Alice Still, Miss Edith Barn, Mrs. J. E. Cooper, Mrs. W. W. Hinds, Mrs. Roy Gilson, G. D. Giff, Miss William Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kitchens, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Pottle, Miss Lucile Ragsdale, Mrs. W. N. Pender, Mrs. J. H. Phelan, Mrs. J. O. Pitts, Mrs. R. C. Blair.

Miss Beth Hall To Be Honored At Bridge Party

Miss Beth Hall, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hall, of Macon, arrives in Atlanta Friday to visit Misses Isabel and Pam Johnston at their home on Wesley road, and will be entertained at a series of social events.

The Misses Johnston will be hostesses at a bridge party Friday evening in compliment to their guest, who is one of the belles of Macon society, inviting 20 guests to meet Miss Hall Saturday evening. Miss Mary Ballenger will give a dinner in honor of Miss Hall at the P. H. D. Driving club, at the weekend dinner-dance, at 2 o'clock.

Miss Hall, who was graduated from Sweet Briar college in Virginia, is very popular with a wide circle of friends in the city, and was an intimate friend of her attractive hostesses, the Misses Johnston, during their period of residence in Macon before their mother, Mrs. Richard W. Johnston, moved to Atlanta, where they have moved in exclusive social circles. Other informal social gatherings will complement Miss Hall, the dates to be announced later.

Thirteen Club Sponsors Benefit Bridge Saturday.

The thirteen club, senior division of the junior department Atlanta Woman's club, will give a benefit bridge in the banquet hall of the club Saturday afternoon, May 7, at 3 o'clock. A grand matinee bridge party will be an unusual feature. Tables will be $1 each.

The first award will be a large elaborately decorated cake and there will be individual table awards. Those desiring to make reservations phone the president, Mrs. Evelyn Sims, Ivy 4002 or Mrs. M. D. Farnham, chairman junior department, Hemlock 2321.

Mrs. Henry Honors Guest And Lovely Recent Bride.

Mrs. Samuel Henry was hostess at a bridge-tee Thursday at her home on Fairview road in honor of her guest, Mrs. Evelyn Sims, Ivy 4002, and Mrs. M. D. Farnham, chairman junior department, Hemlock 2321.

Mrs. Cary Bone assisted the hostess in entertaining. Those present included Mesdames Britton, Partridge, Charles, Winthrop, E. E. Ewing, Lawrence Cook, Fleming Settle, Fred Patterson, Frank Kaye, Jr., Irwin Ragsdale and Mrs. Rogers, and Misses Constance Spaulding, Eleanor Gay, Ellen Newell, Latrelle Small, Ruth Hollingsworth, Doris Moore and Lucy Jarper.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers Keep "Open House."

A very delightful affair of Thursday evening was the "open house" at which Mrs. Frank C. Chambers, chairman of the Atlanta club, entertained to celebrate their wedding anniversary at their home, 27 Peachtree Hills avenue.

A group of Mr. and Mrs. Chambers' friends called between the hours of 8 and 12 o'clock.

Program of Atlanta Presbyterian.

Wednesday evening Presbyterian had the pleasure of hearing two exquisite numbers rendered by the quartet from North Avenue Presbyterian church. The birthday offering, which goes this year to the girls' school at Kwangju, Korea, was stressed through an appealing program.

Dr. Frank C. Morgan had charge of the Bible hour. The Presbyterian convoked Thursday morning at 9:30 at Peachtree Road church, with Mrs. W. M. Everett presiding.

Dr. J. R. McCain, president of Agnes Scott, presented the needs and possibilities of the mountain people at Nacoochee, which is to be moved soon to Rabun Gap and consolidated with the school there.

St. John's Missionary Society Has Meeting.

The Missionary society of St. John's church met Monday, May 5, at 8 o'clock in the church, Mrs. W. T. Hunt presiding.

The Bible lesson was given by Mrs. E. L. Graydon, the study being Jonah and Nahum. Mrs. Graydon is well versed as a Bible leader and the study is proving profitable.

Reports of officers and circle chairmen were very gratifying. The social service luncheon was discussed and representatives appointed. The monthly bulletin was presented in an interesting manner by a number of members. Mrs. J. A. Moore, delegate to the South Atlanta district meeting at Martha Brown Memorial, gave an interesting report of the meeting.

The mission study class will meet Monday, May 9, in the church at 8 o'clock. Mrs. J. A. Moore will be in charge. "Missionary Women" is being studied and is moving instructive and interesting. All women of the church and community are invited to the meeting.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to Miss Maude Smith and Miss Annie Bess Feebek as the committee of arrangements.

To my Mother!

Because I feel that,
In the Heavens Above,
The angels, whispering
To one another,
Can find, among their Burning terms of love,
None so devotional
As that of Mother.

—Edgar Allan Poe.

There is no more beautiful tribute to the most beautiful love in the world than flowers on Mother's Day. It is the one day in which the nation bows to those who made it.

Send flowers on Mother's Day if you would make her happy.

Cuban President and Party Given Banquet by Old Guard

Atlanta paid homage socially and officially Thursday to her first executive visitor, General Gerardo Machado, president of Cuba, the center of entertainment being the elaborate banquet last evening at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel arranged by Colonel W. M. Camp, of the Old Guard.

Dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock in the handsome Georgian ballroom of this hotel, which was beautifully decorated with the flags of the United States and Cuba in artistic arrangement. Red, white and blue being the national colors of both republics, the colors were most effective. At the northern end of the room the flags of the United States and Cuba were side by side, while draped across the room from each side the large colonial columns were draperies of the same official colors.

The president's table, placed in the center of the room, was beautifully decorated with three large flat plaques of red, white and blue flowers, while the smaller tables placed throughout the room held the same colored flowers in small vases.

Albert Howell, prominent Atlantian, was toastmaster for the affair, and Joseph A. McCord was chairman.

Seated at the president's table were the president, Honorable Gerardo Machado; Governor Clifford Walker and Mrs. Walker, Dr. Orestes Fernandez, Cuban ambassador at Washington, D. C.; Dr. Claudio Gonzales de Mendoza, attorney at law; Aurelio Portuondo, president of the Cuban Trading company; Dr. Julio D. ## Nominating Committee Announced For Atlanta P. T. A. Council

The announcement of the nominating committee at the May meeting of the Atlanta P. T. A. council held Thursday morning at Edith Hall was the outstanding feature of the meeting. The committee was elected by the executive board of the P. T. A. council Monday and publicly announced at the general council meeting Thursday. Mrs. H. G. Parks, president of Kirkwood School P. T. A., was appointed chairman of the committee and other members of the committee include Mrs. T. E. Robinson, Georgia Avenue P. T. A. president; Mrs. H. C. Proctor, Spring street P. T. A. president; Mr. Roland G. Lyons, president of the Joel Chandler Harris P. T. A.; Mrs. R. E. Jones, State street P. T. A. president.

The committee will report at the next meeting of the P. T. A. council, at which time officers for 1927-28 will be elected. It was decided at the meeting Thursday that the next meeting of the council would be held Thursday, May 26 instead of June 2, as this date conflicted with the Junior High school graduations. Mrs. Charles J. Foster, president, presided at the meeting Thursday, which was featured by reports of chairmen.

CUBAN PRESIDENT FETED IN ATLANTA

The honor was held in the ball room of the Biltmore, which was brilliantly decorated with Cuban and American flags.

Howell Welcomes Visitor.

Mr. Howell extended the formal welcome to President Machado and his party. "This country owes a great debt to Cuba than any other our republic and had applause.

Joseph A. Howell, the first speaker of the evening, introducing Commander Camp.

While President Machado spoke entirely in Spanish, he was interpreted frequently by applause. He paid a glowing tribute to the hospitality of Atlanta and to the brilliant event of his honor. The son, he said, was composed of the purest strain of the Anglo-Saxon race. President Machado said he wanted particularly to express his gratitude to the working class of the city of Atlanta for the reception accorded him upon his arrival, which whistles of locomotives and factories loudly acclaimed him. Dancing followed the banquet.

The president was taken to the capitol, where addresses of welcome were made by Governor Walker and Mayor Ragsdale. He then went to the Federal Reserve bank, where he was entertained at a luncheon by Governor Wellborn. After a trip to Stone Mountain and other points of interest, the Cuban president was taken to the Biltmore, where a reception and dance were tendered him and members of his party.

In the escort with the president were Mr. Camp, Governor Wellborn, C. O. Bickelhaup, president of the Southern Bell Telephone company; J. J. Haverly, Martin Amorous, Albert Howell, Jr., Major General M. J. Craig, commanding officer of the Fourth corps area; Colonel Duncan Major, Colonel George F. Baltzell, of Fort McPherson; Adjutant General Charles H. Cox, of the Georgia National Guard; and Colonel Charles T. Nunnally, chief of the staff of Governor Walker.

The sentiments of the people of Atlanta over the visit of the Cuban president were expressed by Governor Wellborn in his speech at the luncheon as follows:

"I believe, the first occasion upon which Atlanta has been honored by a visit from the head of a foreign government. Mr. President, we are delighted to welcome you here in a representative city of the southern United States.

"There is a strong bond of union between Cuba and this country, and particularly so between the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta and your splendid people. The only foreign agency of any reserve bank in the federal reserve system is the one established by the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta in Havana. This furnishes our currency, backed up by gold, and is a great convenience to the American banks doing business in Cuba. It was our great good fortune to be able to be of assistance in stabilizing conditions there about a year ago when an unprecedented and unnecessary run on the banks of Cuba began to occur. At that time, the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta shipped $12,000,000 to Havana, which, upon its arrival, restored confidence and enabled business to return to normal almost immediately. I want to say here, Mr. President, that the part played by you personally in appearing among the depositors and giving them the benefit of your wise advice did a great deal to save the situation and prevent panic. Your conduct in these trying circumstances cannot be praised too highly.

"Cordial Relations Traced.

"The growth of business relations between our two countries is constantly on the increase. I understand that we now have about a billion and a half dollars invested in Cuba, our largest foreign investment, and I want to say that I believe this is due largely to our confidence in your wise and stable government no less than to your fair treatment of foreign capital. There has always existed a love between Cuba and the United States.

Refering to depression in Cuba, Mr. Howell said that he believed if the party represented by the people of the south were in power and could have its way, there would be no more depression in the island republic. This statement was made, the constmaster said, without any reflection on the president of the United States. Mr. Howell was introduced by William Camp, commandant of the Old Guard.

Governor Clifford Walker was presented by Mr. Howell as "a typical Georgia democrat," and the governor extended the official welcome to the visiting executive.

Former Senator Hoke Smith paid a tribute to President Machado and cited his war record. In concluding

'Endymion' Will Be Presented At Agnes Scott Next Saturday

The May day celebration, an annual event of great interest at Agnes Scott college, will take place Saturday afternoon, May 7, at 3 o'clock. The presentation, based on the Greek myth of Endymion, is to be one of the loveliest ever given at Agnes Scott.

Written by Mr. Wood, the scenario, "Endymion," was written by Miss Evelyn Wood, of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The story is as follows: Scene, a wooded dell on Mt. Latmos, in Cairo, Greece. Time: When gods were many and beauty was worshipped. First episode: It is the hour just before dawn. Darknes lingers over the scene until Apollo in his chariot of flame rides through, bringing dawn to the world. He rides off, leaving shouts are heard and a troop of little children enter and after them a procession of maidens, shepherds and the high priest, all bearing torches, for it is the occasion of a festival to Pan. Last of all come the hunters with their leader, Endymion. After the ceremony they engage in contests with bow and arrow, discus and javelin in which Endymion's prowess is greatest. At last the festival is ended and only one the people leave.

Second episode: The scene is the same glen on another day. Through the woods comes Diana and her maid engage in hunting. They all leave except Diana, who has caught a glimpse of Endymion and wishes to see his skill in hunting. She watches him as he captures a bear and falls in love with him. She slips away through the trees as he throws himself on the ground to rest. The day is drawing to a close. Stars peep out and night claims the scene. Soft music is heard and Diana appears to Endymion who gazes on her enraptured. He woos her, she responds, and they dance through the woods.

Third episode: Endymion, pinning for his immortal love, wanders through the wooded dell. The dryads and maids come to assuage his grief. Pan, the wood-god, sends a bunch of satyrs who weave strange spells about him. Still he is unhappy. At last Diana, in her moon radiance appears to him. He is about to embrace her when Mercury appears, bearing the announcement that Jupiter is sending punishment upon him for loving an immortal. He is to remain forever young, but is to sleep perpetually. Endymion and Diana are heartless. Spirits of sleep appear, drawing a low-wheeled chariot covered with poppies. Endymion bids farewell to the moon goddess. When all seems hopeless the spirit of youth appears to bring consolation. Slowly the procession moves off bearing Endymion to a plane on Mt. Latmos where he sleeps to this day.

Jim Browning Started Career as Pugilist

Although Jim Browning started his professional athletic career as a boxer that is not expected to give him any undue advantage over Dick Daviscourt in their 10-round meeting at the city auditorium the night of May 10, so Matchmaker John Contos declared Thursday.

Sufficient proof that Daviscourt is able to take care of himself against Browning is reflected from the fact that he kayoed Jim in the fifth round of a similar bout staged at Nashville, Tenn., a year or so ago.

Browning was a boxer for more than a year, finally quitting that game to become a wrestler. He has done very well as a mat disciple and today ranks with the leading grapplers of the country.

In the Nashville match Browning was doing better than holding his own. He floored Daviscourt with a volley of rights and lefts, but became a bit careless. Rough Richard, who had been waiting for just such an opportunity, out loose with an uppercut that found its target—Browning's jaw. The latter went down and was counted out before he could get up.

Judging from all reports the fight here next Tuesday night is almost certain to end in a knockout. Neither of the rivals cares very much about winning a decision. This boxing match was arranged in order that each might inflict as much physical punishment as possible and still stay within the limits of the rules.

While the freak match between Daviscourt and Browning is considered the feature of the Tuesday night program, Contos has done himself proud in arranging preliminaries. He has booked two exceptionally good wrestling matches which, in addition to presenting favorites, will introduce two new stars.

Zhyzsko Booked. Wladyslaw Zhyzsko, who has wrestled here often enough to develop something of a following, has been matched against Ivan Padukoff, the Russian giant. The latter tips the scales at 255 pounds and is reported to be one of the most skilled grapplers in the game.

In addition there will be another one-hour bout, between Jimmy Lodes, the Greek star, and Jack Kellar, who claims considerable skill. There must be something to his contention, for only a short time ago Kellar held Paul Jones, local favorite, to a draw in their match at St. Louis.

Tickets for the Tuesday night show have been placed on sale at Chess' Place, the Piedmont Hatters and also at the Piedmont hotel cigar stand. A brisk demand is reported.

Should Be Good

The more we hear about this wrestlers' boxing match to be pulled off at the city auditorium Tuesday night the more interested we become. We have not yet reached a point where we can vision anything like a good boxing fight, but unless we are greatly fooled, the customers will see more of a FIGHT with a couple of wrestlers doing the boxing than they have seen on many a fight card where pseudo boxers were doing the honors with the mitts.

Of one thing there seems to be some certainty. Both Daviscourt and Browning have put up so much ballyhoo about their blood feud that things had better mix rapidly in the ring Tuesday night or the firm of Daviscourt and Browning will find trade as scarce in Atlanta as bootleggers at a W. C. T. U. convention.

Judging from what we have heard from the two principals and what others have repeated to us the thing shapes up like this: The California iron man holds Browning in no little contempt and when Daviscourt takes the trouble to say anything at all about the matter he infers very plainly that Browning is not to be considered seriously and that he (Daviscourt) would welcome any kind of an encounter with James with any kind of weapons from boxmitten to swords provided, of course, there is enough jack in the bag to pay Rough Richard for "dirtying his hands."

This pose on the part of Daviscourt may be a stall and it may not, but the fact remains that he has made this stand so evident that Browning naturally is a bit heated in the region of his number 17 collar and would welcome an opportunity to take a bit of conceit out of the Pacific coast grappler.

Some time ago Richard and James staged a battle with the gloves in Nashville and at that time Browning was eternally disgraced by being slapped for a long line of solidly built houses in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round scramble. That fact, coupled with the known fact that Browning was a fighter before he took to the pastime of making vegetables out of oral appendages, dealt a severe blow to the pride of Browning and if the big Kansan is not out after Daviscourt's blood this trip then we are badly fooled by a lot of ballyhoo.

Funny Stuff!

The one on the left, Rough Richard Daviscourt, is shown in training for his box fight with Jim Browning, which is to be staged at city auditorium next Tuesday. Acting on the assumption that fighters train with sparring partners who approximate the style of future opponents, the cut is no great compliment to Friend Browning. Sam, the office boy, who claims to have had some experience, declares that Mr. Daviscourt is working on the wrong end of the bargain if he expects to get practice in taking punishment. Another brilliant member of the staff suggests that Daviscourt is always out after the jack, which crack we repeat with no personal responsibility.

Tech Frosh Again Beat McCallie, 9-6

Rat Aggregation Sweeps Series; Play Auburn Yearlings Saturday.

BY HOWARD EATON.

Cosch Mundorff's frosh baseball team again defeated the McCallie team from Chatsanooga on Grant field Thursday afternoon, 9-6. Thursday's game was a much better one than the fray between the same two clubs on Wednesday afternoon. Better fielding and pitching was exhibited by both teams and the result was a faster game.

The Junior Jackies were actually out during the seven-inning frame, but coupled their six hits with the eight errors made by the visiting club and managed to push across three more runs than the McCallie nine. Latham, at short for the McCallie nine, played a good game in the field and collected a couple of hits, one of them being of the three-base variety. Grizzle, who performed on the mound for the McCallie team, twirled a good game and would have probably turned in a win if his teammates had given him better support. White caught a good game but was a little weak with his throws to second to cut off attempted steals.

Terrill, second baseman for Mundorff's aggregation, was the only member of the Frosh nine to collect more than one safe blow. He connected for two out of three attempts with the willow. Spear caught a good game and not once did he allow an opponent to steal a base. In his single trip to the plate he connected for a two-base blow into left field with one man on.

Tech had its biggest inning in the first stanza scoring three runs before being retired. A couple of hits mixed with a trio of errors allowed the Frosh to cross the plate for three markers. The Frosh nine scored a run in every inning except the seventh when it did not take its turn at bat. The fifth was the big inning for the visiting team, five runs were annexed by them in this frame which was a wild one as far as the Frosh infielders were concerned. Five errors were chalked up against them.

Prior to this time the infield had played jump ball, making only one aside in the four previous stanzas. McCallie took advantage of these errors and almost caught the Frosh before they were retired. An error from the Frosh allowed the visiting team to score a run. And the error and a two-bagger off the bat of Grizzle cleaned the bags, ending the scoring for the visiting team. Fifteen men, coach and manager will journey down to Auburn to play the Tiger Frosh Saturday morning. The Tech Frosh have already defeated the Tiger Kittens this year and expect to annex another victory for their collection. The following men will make the trip: Spear, Mizell, Myers, Terrill, Frink, Campbell, Jones, Hoek, Nichols, Moore, DeVaughn, Hobbs, Bailey, Hutcheson and Page.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Tech ..... 311 211 x-9 6 6 6 McCallie ..... 100 050 0-6 7 7 Batteries: Tech: DeVaughn and Spear; McCallie: Grizzle and White.

Gaston Injured When Hit by Line Drive

Jacket Bludgeons Speak 17 Times for Safe Blows—Game Called in Ninth on Account of Darkness.

BY TOM THOMPSON.

HE North Carolina Tarheels today are declaring that Chaisson, the left-handed Tech hurler, is one of those phenomenal boxmen whose sole virtue is a glove and who prays with each delivery. That's what baseball players always say when some pitcher sets them down so hard they find standing comfortable for weeks, and it's quite certain that the Tarheels are no exception. Just exactly three men over the minimum quota of three batters per inning faced this rampaging Mr. Chaisson in the 7 2-3 innings that he hurled Thursday, and Tech cleaned the series, 12-4. Darkness halted proceedings in the ninth.

To mark his record, Young singled in the sixth and after he had struck out the succeeding batter, Mackie, for the second consecutive time, and made Sharpe pop to Parham, he released, grooved one for Mr. Hatley. Hatley boy leaned on it heavily and his long, sizzling lob hopped out of bounds for a homer.

That was "dreadful," Mr. Chaisson decided, so he shut the gate to first base again and after looking it, threw the key away. He had only nine men to face him in the third, fourth and fifth, so he pitched to only six in the seventh and eighth. Chaisson gets lots of credit for pitching that kind of ball. But maybe there is another side to the situation. After watching Sharpe crawl one through the box that sought haven on the cranium of Gaston, the Tech outfielder, so hard that it shied 150 feet to the bleachers in the first inning, Mr. Chaisson might have been afraid to pitch anything but superlative baseball. We will always believe that after one look at the well that stood out on Gaston's head like a hoodigan cap, Mr. Chaisson decided that nobody was going to sock his nigger. He lacked only three instances of being right.

The two in the sixth had a previous supplier at in the second when But laid one base's worth of sock in left field. A rout was prevented here when Haverly hit into the game's only double play after Tech had walked Greedy Boys. The Techmen, those greedy boys, had the ball game you in the sixth inning. But that wasn't solidarity to anybody concerned, so they put on an added attraction in the eighth and banged Mr. Ellison from the box with seven hits, three of them doubles, from which they gleaned five runs. They showed a superior aggregation from beginning to finish.

The outstanding things about that game of ball, however, was Brewer's theft of home plate in the third and the one-cushion one shot of Sharpe in the first inning that scored the second and fourth run.

Gaston was facing his fourth batter, Sharpe. Haverly had found haven on Parham's boot and Young had sacrificed him to second from whence he counted on Mackie's single. With Mackie on first Sharpe picked a crisp pitch and flattered it with a coating of speed a foot thick and a mile wide. Not being accustomed to doling bull-lets, Gaston didn't have time to get out of the way. He ducked, and the fraction of time the ball allowed him to permit him to get his face out of the way and his head in. The apple plunked him solidly in his gray matter appointment and instead of shying to the right or left, as most any self-respecting baseball world, it bounced almost straight back to the plate and way over it.

This strategic move on the part of the ball permitted Mackie to score. Empire Walton held Sharpe on first and aid was rushed to Gaston while Chaisson rushed to his relief in line of duty. Chaisson proceeded to take charge of affairs, and like a certain popular character, he ruled with an iron hand.

Wake Forest Wins.

Wake Forest, N. C., May 5.—(AP)—Dowling's hit to deep right field after two men were out in the tenth inning scored Lassiter to give Wake Forest a 1-0 victory over V. P. I. here today.

BULLDOGS PLAY TARHEELS TODAY.

Atlanta, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Captain "Skeet" Johnson and Glenn Chaffin will be out of the Georgia Bulldogs lineup in the opener of a series with the North Carolina Tarheels here tomorrow.

Captain Johnson has not fully recovered from a hurt received in Saturday's Tech game, while Chaffin, the short-field covey of the Red and Blackies, is in the college infirmary suffering with tonsillitis.

Pat Keating, who filled the shoes of the Georgia leader behind the plate last Saturday to the satisfaction of all, will handle the receiving. "Click" Shiver, Georgia left fielder, will move into the vacancy at short, with Roy Jacobson going into the former's position. "Billy" Arnewich, held out of the lineup last week, will be at his old position at center field.

Catch White will likely send "Shaky" Kain against the visitors tomorrow. Kain enjoyed the biggest day of the season last Saturday, holding the Tech batters to one lone hit and twirling one of the neatest games of his career.

Local Teams Off for G. I. A. A. Meet at Newman Today

Smithies, B. H. S., U. S. B. Entered

Atlanta Entries Expected to Give Formidable Opposition. State's Prep Track Title at Stake.

BY BEN COTHMAN.

The Tech High, Boys' High and University School track squads will depart today for the town of Newman, Ga., some 40 miles southward, for the annual G. I. A. A. track and field events to be held this afternoon. The member teams of the state prep league are planning such a murderous assault on standing records that said records are expected to throw up their hands in horror and topple by the wayside ere the meet is over.

Last year the Tech High Smithies, who every season took up with a track title of some kind—be it southern state or city—were the victors in the high for first-place honors in the state under-18 competition. The Smithies, along with Newman and Monroe A. and M. are expected to be the most formidable contenders for the laurels of 1934.

Frank Kopf's team—Kopf has turned out winning either crews at Tech High ever since he came here several years ago—made a good showing in the southern interscholastic championships at Savannah last Friday, finishing in second place.

One week before the Savannah events the Smithies won the fifth district meet, beating out Boys' High, which finished second in the state, and University. Tech High is especially strong in the broad jump and hurdles. Battle, the Smithie hurdler, has shown better form in running the hurdles this year than has been seen in some time.

Newman High Strong. Newman High, in its district, the fourth, ran away with the meet, scoring 43 out of a possible 50 points—which is doing right well with any boy's team. The team, playing the part of host—very strong in the discus, shotput and dashes. Coach Waites claims that Newman's last year's team, is of the best in the state.

Boys' High and University, the other Atlanta entrants, are not to be discouraged by any stretch of imagination and will offer competitive opposition on the under path and in the field. Boys' High boasts of a relay team that can throw clinders in the eyes of some of the best in the state.

Red Barron—Big Red, that is—is reaching a team at Monroe A. and M. that looks as a dark horse. Those Monroe teams are always an unknown quantity in football, basketball, or whatever it may be, and are a constant source of worry to other members of the G. I. A. A.

Pat Barron Speedy. One of Big Red's best boys is Pat Barron, the youngest of them all. Pat is speedy enough on the football field, and in R. V. D.'s, Red claims he's one of the fastest men on the 440 yard race in the state.

A new track has been built by the folks down at Newman and all preparations have been made for handling the convention of preppers. Some dozen or so of the member teams are expected, and are either already at Newman or will arrive there this morning.

The meet will begin at 2 o'clock and is expected to be over around 5 o'clock.

Three Autos Ram Big Steam Shovel; 2 Persons Hurt

Three automobiles Thursday night crashed with more or less violence into the heavy steel mass of a steam shovel belonging to the Richmond Construction company, parked at the protection of red lights on Fair street near the corner of Pearl street, according to a report filed at police headquarters by Call Officers Bold and Crankshaw.

F. W. Jones, of 482 Sinclair avenue, who rode with his brother, E. B. Jones, of the same address, received a badly cut hand when their machine rammed the steam shovel, while his brother was shaken and bruised, police reports show.

The same officers also reported that H. H. Nix, of 645 Woodland avenue, drove a coupe into the steam shovel, and was slightly hurt, as did another motorist whose name was not known. Police believe that a heavy rain early Thursday night may have partially obscured the vision of motorists.

Tech High Defeats University, 12-4

Smithies Show Power in Licking League Leaders—Fulton Beats G. M. A. Crew, 4-3.

WO disastrous upsets occurred in the prep baseball loop Thursday afternoon when the Tech High Smithies turned the trick that no one else had been able to and defeated the league-leading University Bluebirds, 12 to 4, and Fulton High tumbled G. M. A., resting in second place, 4-3.

The Smithies, the season's worst in-and-outers, got right and jumped on Arthur McIlenny with both feet, wielding their bludgeons menacingly for 16 state blows, while Fulton held the hitherto hard hitting Bluebirds to six hits.

Tech High played a jam-up game of baseball, while the brand displayed by University could best be described as being terrible.

Red Hutt, Smithie right fielder, led the hitting of the day with three hits out of five times up as his record.

This trio of base knocks, two were of the three-base variety and the other a single. Hutt played a good game in the outer garden, but his stick-work gave the Smithies a decidedly better punch at the plate than they have shown all season.

Heavy Hammond, Tech Hi backstopper, had a perfect record at bat, singling four times out of four times up. Merrill Carpenter, who chases grounders and pop flies around, secured two hits in the third inning.

The Fultonites topped on Clarke, G. M. A. hurler, at the outset, pushing across two runs in the first frame and two more in the third using most of their eight hits to accomplish the trick.

Moore, Fulton catcher, was the best hitter of the day, making three trips to the plate and singling each time. Lettwith helped put Fulton runs across the plate with his double, the longest hit ball of the game.

The Cadets played good ball, but were slow getting started. They managed to push one across in the first, but were scoreless until the sixth, when they scored two more runs.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Tech High 12-4. University 4-12. Fulton 4-3. G. M. A. 3-4.

Baseball for the day was held at the Fulton High school grounds. The game was officiated by Judge J. H. Clark and Cooper, King and Moore.

MEMORIALS ASKED FOR JEFFERSON AND FOR MADISON

Pinehurst, N. C., May 5.—(AP)—An appeal for a memorial to Washington to James Madison and Thomas Jefferson was made by Claude G. Bowers, editor of The New York Evening World, in an address here tonight before the North Carolina bar association.

"In the capital of the nation," he said, "we look in vain for the nation's tribute to James Madison, father of the constitution, and to Thomas Jefferson, sponsor of the bill of rights and author of the Declaration of Independence."

The city is crowded with stone and bronze garbages of monuments and memorials, but no place has yet been found for the author of the constitution and the Declaration of Independence.

The Bradley stable will send Buddy Bauer instead of Bewithus to the Preakness at Pimlico next Monday. Jockey Albert Johnson will accompany the bid to have the mount in the rich Maryland classic. Buddy Bauer will be brought to Louisville for the derby May 14.

Bradley's idle hour form stable, however, throughout a mile jump in company with Percentage. Willie Pool took the Pommant—Mary Belle, colt, One pound in 1:43. The clockers caught the quarter in 23 1/5, half in 45 1/5 and three-quarters in 1:15.

Mr. Kirkwood, J. Cal Milan's derby candidate, breezed three-eighths in 37 1/5 and Fred, Jr., stopped the same distance in 38.

BULLDOG 12 MEETS TECH IN LACROSSE

Georgia's lacrosse squad will invade Atlanta today in an effort to again defeat the strong Tech team.

Having beaten the Jackets earlier in the season will aid them materially as far as confidence is concerned, but on the other hand the Yellow Jacket outfit, coached by Dr. J. B. Crenshaw, is out for revenge and will be hard to beat.

Tech has defeated the Fort Benning team three times this season out of a possible four and any team that can win three straight victories over such a foe can boast of a strong team.

Dr. Crenshaw has worked his men hard during the past week in an effort to whip them into shape for the Georgia game. The entire squad has shown great improvement. Especially is this true of the attack members of the team.

On Weller, Cook and Trowman are the main eyes in the Tech attack, but these three members of the cross packers crew have several understudies in the person of Govin, Polittieri, Thrush and a few others who can compare with the best of lacrosse players in the south.

A good game is to be expected when these two teams meet on Grant Field this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The game will be played promptly at 4 o'clock and will last one hour. No admission will be charged and this is the best chance that the Atlanta public will get to see a good lacrosse game.

LEGION GOLF BUGS INCREASE TOURNEY LIST

American Legion golfers, clubs and experts alike, are registering this week for the legion's golf tournament to be held next Friday, May 13, at Forest Hills Golf club.

Forrest Hills Golf club, it was announced Thursday by Frank Hars, chairman of the athletic committee in charge of the event.

The golf tournament will be an all day outing at the Forest Hills club next Friday, with a morning round of 18 holes to set the handicaps for the determining round to be played during the afternoon.

The weekly luncheon of the post will be held in the club house with the Women's Auxiliary of the post in charge of preparing and serving the food.

Entries Thursday included the following: Bob Sowers, Jack J. London, Herschel Upshaw, J. A. Serice, Harry Wallerstein, H. C. Hardegree, R. L. Sisson, C. M. West, Tom Wintley, Roy P. Gates, E. W. Gottenraster, George Suggs, W. H. Malone, Howard Glenn, George Rogers, Fitzhugh Knox, A. J. C. Vogel, J. M. Vickery, Asa W. Candler, C. E. Palmer, M. A. Snyder, R. P. Murtry, M. A. Carroll, L. O. Moseley, Dick Hars, Jack Tracy, Frank Haas, W. H. Dickson, Fred Hicks, A. J. Martin, Jim Harrison, Bill Nash.

Senators Buy 'Nooga Hurler'

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—The Washington American league club today purchased Dick Coffman, pitcher, from the Chattanooga club of the Southern association, with the intention of turning him out for experience. The purchase price was not stated.

Declarator Jones, pitcher, was returned to Chattanooga at the same time.

Mrs. Bradley Beaten At Laurel, 7 and 6

Laurel, Miss., May 5.—(AP)—With two smashing victories and a new record for the Laurel Country club course to her credit, Mrs. David Gant, of Memphis, was strongly favored tonight to take the crown of southern woman golf champion from the head of Miss Turpie, the youthful titleholder from New Orleans.

In defeating Mrs. H. S. Geismier of Birmingham, 6 and 5 today, Mrs. Gant turned in a card of 85, one stroke above par and two more strokes under the course record for women, held by Mrs. Dalton Raymond of Baton Rouge. The Memphis woman has been southern champion three times, western champion once and also runnerup in the national tournament.

Mrs. Gant and Miss Turpie will start the semi-final match tomorrow with the greatest interest of the tournament following them. Miss Turpie has played good golf every day of the tournament, and while her score has not approached that exhibited by Mrs. Gant today, the New Orleans girl seems to thrive on competition.

Those followers of the game predicted that the play around the green would be the determining factor in the contest, since both women are long and accurate drivers.

Mrs. Dalton Raymond, medalist in the tournament, will meet Mrs. J. W. Armstrong, of Jackson, in the other semi-final contest. Both have shown rare form and prospects that the new champion may come from the lower bracket are good.

Miss Turpie today swept through her match with Mrs. Clarence Bradley, of Atlanta, in masterful fashion, ending the contest on the twenty-first green with a 7 and 6 victory. She was hitting them far and well, although easing up a bit in finishing out the 18 holes after the victory.

Mrs. Raymond reached her form on the second nine after she had led Mrs. E. D. Mason, of Louisville 1 up at the turn and ended the contest on the fifteenth green, 4 up and 3 to play. Mrs. Mason battled gamely but could not match the long drives and accurate approaching of the Louisiana champion.

Mrs. Armstrong, who once before won the southern title, will also make a strong bid for the crown this year. She downed Mrs. Rufus Scott, of Paris, Texas, state champion, by a score of 5 and 3 today and completed the round for a medal score of 86, the best in the tournament with the exception of Mrs. Gant, with the record breaking 85. Mrs. Armstrong is being favored to win from Mrs. Dalton Raymond tomorrow.

Mrs. Gant made three birdies on the final nine, shooting in one under par. Except for a seven on the 512-yard nineteenth, she would have made the 18 holes under par figures.

Mrs. Clarence Bradley and Mrs. T. T. Williams, of Atlanta, won the two-ball foursome late today for the lowest gross score with a 47. The low net prize went to Mrs. L. W. Grande and Miss Margaret Maddox, of Atlanta, with a score of 42. The foursome was a handicap match.

7 Men Found Guilty On Prohibition Counts In U. S. Court at Macon

Macon, Ga., May 5.—(AP)—Clyde McCook, Horace Ridler, Pete Madson, Gus Roberts and three negroes, were found guilty here today in federal court on charges of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law, after having faced a jury in the U. S. court for four days. McCook, Ridler, Roberts and the negroes were also found guilty on other counts.

Judge W. J. Tilton, who presided over the trial, stated that he would sentence the defendants later. The government charged that the white men were "higher ups" in one of the biggest rum rings ever created in this section. A stubborn legal battle was waged throughout the trial which began last Monday.

McCook and Ridler were also found guilty of 17 individual sales of whiskey, of possessing whiskey for the purpose of sale, of manufacturing whiskey, of maintaining a nuisance at their places of business in Tindall field here. Immediately after the verdict was returned a jury was chosen for the trial of John Quinnan, W. W. Brown, Will and Blanton Stuckey and Albert McClure, charged in a federal indictment with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

SPEED MARTIN SUSPENDED FROM BASEBALL FOR SEASON Atlanta Batsmen Fail in Pinches

Spiller Grows Weary Of Eternal Dickering

Cracker Boss Makes Decision After Martin Shows No Intention of Reporting—Makes Plans for Better Pitchers.

BY TOM THOMPSON.

"G. SPEED" MARTIN, the whiz ball flinger of the Sacramento club of the Pacific coast league, has shuffled himself out of the national pastime until another season begins.

This was the determination of Rell Jackson Spiller, owner of the Atlanta Crackers Thursday night. Dickering with Martin since he was purchased several months ago, Spiller finally fired and several days ago issued an ultimatum. It stipulated immediate action on the part of the pitcher toward joining the Atlanta club. Five days were allowed, in which Martin could signify his intentions by wiring or by showing up in Atlanta. He did neither.

So, Thursday, Spiller was thoroughly tired of Mr. Martin's shuffling tactics. He decided the zero hour in which Martin could wire up to Thursday night. No wire, and he announced that the pitcher would be suspended for the remainder of the season.

In connection with this announcement came the first definite plan out lined since the season began regarding the player situation, particularly hurlers.

Spiller intends to have good hurling, and no fooling. He has several deals under the pen, none of them anywhere near the hardening point, but it seems sure that when the major league cut in players rolls around, Spiller will reinforce the twirling core of the local club considerably. Getting good pitchers now is out of the question.

Bert Niehoff, definitely, will be in the bench this year. It will be his first non-participating year with the Atlanta club.

The present catapaults will do mound duty until reinforcements are secured. If nothing comes of the deals and, in any case, they will perform through the year. They are Ray Francis, Bill Carter, Pete Fowler, Cliff Mackle, Tom Rogers and Ruel Love. Three orthodox and three unorthodox—but an unbalanced staff, because it is weaker among those flinging from the right side than in the other contingent.

Volley Ball League Plays Third Round

The third round of the Dixie Volley Ball league of the Y-M-C Athletic association will be played Friday night at 7 o'clock on the Y. W. C. A. court.

The feature game of the evening will be between Western Heights and the fast Third Baptist crew. Both teams have played a fine brand of volleyball this season, with each having two wins to its credit over the Patriots and First Methodist teams during the season.

PEIS BEAT BARONS, 5-2.

New Orleans, May 5.—Although out of the league for the season, the Peis beat the Barons 5-2 today in a game that was a real battle from start to finish.

The Peis, who are the only team in the league that has not yet won a game, were led by pitcher Ed Hodge, who pitched a complete game and struck out five batters.

S.S.A.A. LEAGUE PEPS TO MEET LEAD AT STAKE WESTMINSTER ON SATURDAY IN 'Y' FEATURE

Due to the rain of last Saturday, some of the teams in the National S. S. A. A. will only get to play their second round Saturday, while all the American S. S. A. A. teams will play their third.

The lead of the American league will be at stake when Grace Methodist plays St. Mark's Methodist. Both are playing hot and hard, and the game is liable to be a slugfest. The Gordon Street Presbyterian and Druid Hills Presbyterian tie should be another good game, while Central Avenue Baptist, two of the undefeated teams, will be at stake when they meet in the other game of the American league.

In the National league, Pryor Street Presbyterian and Capitol Avenue Baptist, two of the undefeated teams, will be at stake when they meet in the other game of the American league.

National League

ST. LOUIS WINS.

Pittsburgh, May 5.—St. Louis made it two out of three games by defeating Pittsburgh today 4 to 2. The veteran Alex Anderson was master of the Pirates' batsmen. He allowed only seven scattered hits. The score was small, going into the sixth inning. The Cards opened up and tallied twice on Holm's triple and singles by Holm and Bell, coupled with Wright's error and Snyder's run. They added another in the seventh on a double by Anderson and Holm's single.

They muffed Wright's fly in the eighth and the runner reached second. He was driven home by Anderson's sacrifice and a hit.

FLOOD AID FUND IS $8,500 SHORT

According to Robert S. Parker, acting chairman of the flood relief committee of the Atlanta chapter of the American Red Cross, Atlanta's share of the funds to be raised for the Mississippi flood relief is $8,500 short of the $50,000 quota for this city.

So far $33,511 has been collected, which, with pledges amounting to approximately $8,000, makes the total sum subscribed through the local Red Cross office $41,500.

The response by local citizens so far has been very gratifying, but it is believed that the impression that a full quota has been raised has had a tendency to slow down the contributions.

With this idea refused, the local committee has high hopes that this city will soon cross the $50,000 mark. Those who have not yet sent in subscriptions are urged to do so at once as every dollar over the allotted amount can be used to advantage by the Red Cross in the tremendous work that confronts it in the flooded regions.

Contributions should be sent to the Red Cross headquarters, 282 1/2 Peachtree street, and those who have given pledges are requested to pay as promptly as possible. The largest recent subscription was $5,000 made by the Fulton county commissioners.

Mr. Parker stated Thursday that instructions from the flooded area were to the effect that a vast amount of supplies is needed at once. These supplies are available, but the money to pay for them must come from flood-free sections, Mr. Parker continued.

Local officials announced Thursday that the American Telephone and Telegraph company had made a gift of $25,000 to the nation-wide fund.

SPEER ASKS COOK TO REFUND $8,389

Following a conference with Governor Clifford Walker and Attorney General George M. Napier held Thursday, State Treasurer W. J. Speer sent a letter to Charles H. Cook, former cashier of the state motor vehicle department, making formal demand for the payment to the state of $8,389, the amount of an alleged shortage in the accounts of the department, according to an audit completed Wednesday by Sam J. State, state auditor.

This demand was sent by the treasurer after he had received a letter from Secretary of State S. G. McLenon in which the secretary cited a law covering the case which required the treasurer to make such a demand where alleged shortage occurs.

The treasurer's action was the only new development in the case Thursday following issuance of a state order Wednesday by Mr. Cook in which he termed the letter of Secretary McLenon "a contemptible insinuation, particularly since the arrest of Charles Wilkes, McLenon's personal porter, who was caught by a deputy sheriff in the act of taking $8,500 from the safe of the motor vehicle department."

The negro, Charles Wilkes, has been held in the Fulton county tower for several weeks following his indictment on charges of grand larceny by the grand jury.

FARM PROTECTION MOVEMENT FAILS

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—A move to have the United States Chamber of Commerce, in session here, declare in favor of a national policy of agricultural protection failed today when the convention adopted its resolution committee's report urging postponement of decision.

The committee adopted a resolution calling for a substantial reduction of the corporate income tax, repeal of the federal estate tax and elimination of the remaining wartime taxes.

Another resolution urged the government to take a leading part in providing for Mississippi river flood control.

PRESIDENT NAMES FARM LOAN BOARD

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—Eugene Meyer and his colleagues on the war finance corporation were named today by President Coolidge as members of the federal farm loan board in a reorganization of that agency.

Mr. Coolidge named George R. Noyes and Lord R. Harrison, who are also members of the war finance corporation, to serve on the board with Meyer, appointed earlier in the day.

The resignations of Robert A. Cooper and Edward Jones as members of the board were accepted by the president and the third vacancy resulted from the recent resignation of Elmer Landis.

It is understood Mr. Meyer will serve as executive chief of the farm loan board. He has been chairman of the war finance corporation which is now in process of liquidation.

THROGS AT LAKEWOOD SHOW BIG INCREASE

Crowds continued Thursday to throng Lakewood, famous recreation center, and J. Oscar Mills, secretary of the Southeastern Fair association, declared that the gain over last season has increased so that additional employees have been added to accommodate the throngs.

"We have been forced to increase the number of our employees because of the popularity of the park during the cool spring months," Mr. Mills said. "Lakewood is fast becoming recognized as one of the most completely equipped play centers in the entire country."

"We also are preparing for the first international polo and stampede ever held in the south and when the gates of the park swing open May 14 for the week's presentation of events, the largest crowds of the entire season are expected."

Contestants in the polo will compete for $10,000 in prizes which are offered by the United Order American Mechanics, sponsors of the show.

Atlanta To Write Centennial Pageant For Carroll County

Carrollton, Ga., May 5.—(Special.) Miss Helen K. Spain, of Atlanta, has been selected to write the pageant for the Carroll county centennial to be held on October 22, 1927. This pageant will be based upon the historical growth of Carroll county, which is celebrating its 100th anniversary.

Miss Spain declares herself as being delighted with the material furnished her by the county historian, J. J. Thomason, editor of The Carroll County Times, and sees in it many graphic incidents and episodes that will fit into dramatic settings.

Dr. T. R. Luck, president of the Carroll club, won the prize offered for the best slogan for Carroll county by the publicity committee of the centennial.

The slogan submitted by Dr. Luck is "Where small crops produce large crops."

HAYNES' POSITION DIVIDES DRY S

Washington, May 5.—(United Press.)—Division among dry forces as to whether Acting Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes should be given a permanent appointment has developed.

In opposition to Haynes was expressed in a statement issued by Edwin C. Dinwiddie, head of the National Temperance Bureau, and until a few years ago an official of the Anti-Saloon league. The Anti-Saloon league is supporting Haynes.

Representations that dry forces of the dry are behind Haynes "hardly comport with the facts" when officials of most of the organizations in close touch with these matters have either voiced their opposition or refused their assent to such a proposal, Dinwiddie said.

"Personally, I only know that so many outstanding leaders of various influential church and temperance groups have expressed unfavorable reaction to such appointment that one is compelled to question its wisdom under known conditions."

Seymour Lowman, Elmhurst, N. Y., former lieutenant governor of New York, Haynes and several others are being considered for the permanent post, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, said today.

CLOUDY, SHOWERS WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR CITY TODAY

Cloudy weather, interspersed with showers, is the meteorological outlook for Atlanta for Friday, according to the official prediction of C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. weather bureau.

Temperatures will probably fall a little lower than those of Thursday, when the range was between 65 and 84 degrees.

A thunderstorm which broke on Thursday evening brought a sharp drop in mercury readings, and caused the electric lighting system in some smaller towns to cease functioning properly. Stone Mountain reported it was in darkness for three hours.

NEWTON CLUB GIRLS TO BE GIVEN TRIP TO ATLANTA TODAY

Covington, Ga., May 5.—(Special.) The girls' clubs of Newton county, under the supervision of Miss Jane Roberts, county home demonstration agent, and composed of 160 girls, will be given a motor trip to Atlanta Friday.

The motorcade, composed of 60 cars, decorated in blue and white bunting, (furnished by citizens of Covington and the Kiwanis club, will leave the public square Friday morning promptly at 9:30 o'clock, in charge of W. R. Stillwell.

The first stop will be made at Emory university, where they will be shown through the buildings and hear an address by Dr. Cox, president. The party will be met there by four of Chief Heavers' motorcycle officers, who will escort them through the city to the state capital, where they will meet Governor Walker.

While on the capital grounds a photograph will be made of the entire party. Luncheon will be served at Grant park. The party will visit the Stone Mountain memorial on the return trip.
